Mission Statement

Salisbury State University's mission is to cultivate and sustain a superior, student-centered learning community where students, faculty and staff are viewed as both teachers and learners, and where a commitment to excellence permeates all aspects of University life. We recruit exceptional and diverse faculty, staff, undergraduate and graduate students and support them as they work together to reach the University's goals. Serving Maryland and the Mid-Atlantic region, we are concerned participants in responding to the educational, economic, cultural and social needs of our community and believe that service is a vital component of civic life. Our highest purpose is to empower our students with the knowledge, skills and core values that contribute to life-long learning and active citizenship in a democratic society and interdependent world.

Values

The core values of Salisbury State University are excellence, student-centeredness, learning, community, civic engagement and diversity. We believe these values must be lived and experienced as integral to everyday campus life so that students make the connection between what they learn and how they live.

Excellence: Excellence, the standard against which all University activities and outcomes are measured, connotes the perfection and the quality for which we strive and hold ourselves accountable. We accept the notion that the quality of a university depends on the heads and hearts of those in it.

Student-Centeredness: Our students are the primary reason for our existence. Our focus is on their academic and individual success and on their health and well-being. We are committed to helping students learn to make reasoned decisions and to be accountable for the outcomes of the decisions they have made.

Learning: We believe that learning is fundamental to living a life with purpose in an increasingly interrelated world and that our role is to teach students not what to think, but how to think. The University introduces students to a system of ideas about the nature of humanity, the universe, and the world created by art and thought. Through active learning, service learning, international experience and co-curricular activities, students connect research to practice, and theory to action.

Community: Salisbury State University takes pride in being a caring and civil place where individuals accept their obligations to the group, learn through their interactions and relationships with others, where governance is shared, and where the focus is on the common good. We honor the heritage and traditions of the institution which serve as a foundation for future change.

Civic Engagement: The University stands as a part of, rather than apart from, the local and regional community. Recognizing its history and traditions, we seek to improve the quality of life for citizens in the region. We believe it is our responsibility to enrich cultural life, enhance the conduct of public affairs and contribute to the advancement of the region. We seek to instill in our students a lifelong commitment to civic engagement.

Diversity: Salisbury State University views itself as a just community where there is respect for the value of global, societal and individual differences and commitment to equal opportunity. Diversity is purposefully cultivated as a way to strengthen and enhance our University community.

History

In 1922, the Maryland Legislature established a commission to determine a location for a two-year college on the state's Eastern Shore. A site at Salisbury was selected and the institution opened in September 1925.

The college's two-year course of study was increased to three years in 1931 and to four years in 1934. Following this, and by action of the Legislature of 1935, the College was authorized to grant the Bachelor of Science.

The academic program expanded in 1947 and in 1960, offering four-year programs in arts and sciences, providing students with a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. The University continues to meet the increasing demands of society for quality education and today offers a variety of undergraduate programs in liberal arts, sciences and in the professional fields of business administration, education, medical technology, nursing, respiratory therapy and social work.

In 1962, the state board of trustees approved a graduate program leading to the Master of Education, followed with a Master of Arts in English (1974), a Master of Business Administration (1981), a Master of Science with a major in nursing (1982), a Master of Education with a major in public school administration (1994), a Master of Arts in Teaching (1996), a Master of Arts with a major in history (1998), and a Master of Science in Applied Health Physiology (2000)

In 1988, the state Legislature approved the name change from College to University. Today, Salisbury State University is a nationally accredited, four-year comprehensive university offering 38 distinct undergraduate and graduate degree programs in a friendly atmosphere that encourages close relationships between faculty and students.

Campus Visits

The University encourages prospective students and their families to tour the campus and confer with the admissions staff. The Admissions Office provides tours every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 1:30 p.m. except holidays when the University is closed. Application Requirements And Procedures

Admissions requirements set forth in the following sections are minimum requirements that may be subject to change after the Undergraduate Catalogue has been printed. In such cases, changes in admissions policy will be publicized.

Application Forms

Applications for admission, catalogues and other information regarding the University may be obtained on request from the Office of Admissions, from admissions representatives at college programs and on the web site. Many high school guidance offices and community colleges may also provide admission information.

Application Fee

A $30 non-refundable application fee is required with each application.

Freshman Admission Options

Salisbury State University considers freshman applicants under three admissions plans.

Early Decision is for high school seniors who have solid academic profiles and who are willing to make a firm commitment to attend SSU if admitted. Early decision applicants must submit their applications by December 15. Decisions are made by January 15 and a nonrefundable deposit is required within two weeks of notification.

Regular Admission is the plan under which most students enter SSU. Regular admission is open to qualified high school students who apply for admission by February 1. Candidates are usually notified of the admission action by March 15. Those who are admitted have until May 1 to confirm their space in the class by submitting a deposit.

Early Admission is an admission option for academically talented high school students. Students who have completed the junior year of high school may be considered for acceptance into the regular University program provided they present evidence of outstanding academic achievement, commendable scores on the Scholastic Assessment Test I or ACT, a positive recommendation from the high school and a certification of eligibility for a high school diploma under the early admission program. A personal interview with an SSU admissions officer is required.

Transfer Admission

Beginning December 15, the Admissions Office will respond on a rolling basis to transfer applicants.

Suggested Deadlines

Suggested filing deadlines for fall admissions are January 15 for freshman applicants and March 1 for transfer students. Readmission deadlines are December 1 and July 1. Applications received after the suggested filing dates are considered on a space-available basis.

Students applying for the spring semester will be notified of the decision on their applications beginning September 15, on a rolling admissions plan, provided their files are complete. The University reserves the right to close admissions when the projected enrollment is met.

Freshman students seeking on-campus housing for the fall semester who are guaranteed a room must complete the admissions process by May 1. Transfer students who are guaranteed housing must meet their specified deadline for the acceptance fee to reserve a space on campus. Payment of the $200 acceptance fee completes the admissions process. Students paying the acceptance fee past their deadline will be housed on a space-available basis.

Students seeking on-campus housing for the spring semester also will be housed on a space-available basis.

Academic Scholarships

Each fall, the University awards nearly $1 million in academic scholarships. The admissions application automatically qualifies students for consideration for these academic scholarships.

The minimum requirements for scholarship consideration are a 3.25 high school record in academic subjects and 1250 on the SAT I or 28 on the ACT.

Entering freshmen who meet minimum requirements are contacted by the appropriate awarding group.

Social Security Number

All students are asked to submit their Social Security number. International students are encouraged to file for a Social Security number although they are not eligible for Social Security benefits. The Social Security number is used as a student identifier in maintaining academic and financial records. This number is included on the student's photo identification card (ID), which is solicited in connection with various University-related athletics, social and cultural events. Blackwell Library and the Commons have electronic card readers and valid identification cards are required for the use of these facilities.

Students' disclosure of their Social Security number is voluntary. The student Social Security number is only released to agencies or individuals outside the University at the request of the student or in accordance with federal and state requirements in regard to financial aid awards, Internal Revenue Service for student employee salary reporting and state controller's debt collection procedure.

For Immigrant Students

Any student applying for admission whose native language is other than English will be required to demonstrate an acceptable level of English proficiency in addition to meeting the basic requirements for admission to the University.

For Veterans

Veterans and dependents of veterans who are eligible for GI benefits and who have a high school diploma or equivalency may be admitted to Salisbury State University. Veterans who have attended other colleges since their discharge are not included in this policy and should seek admission through the normal transfer process. Priority for the acceptance of veterans will be given to Maryland residents.

In addition to high school or college transcripts, each veteran must provide the Admissions Office with a certificate of eligibility. Since it generally takes 60 days or more to clear a VA application, applicants are encouraged to contact their nearest VA office within sufficient time prior to registration at SSU. Initial contact for implementation of benefits should be directed to the Salisbury State University Office of Veteran Affairs.

For Transfer Students

Students with acceptable records may be admitted from other regionally accredited collegiate institutions with requirements similar to those of Salisbury State University. Transfer students should request application forms for admission from the Office of Admissions and are subject to the same payment procedures as incoming freshmen.

To be considered for admission as a transfer student, a student must have earned at least 24 semester hours of college-level credit at an accredited community college or four-year college or university, and have a minimum 2.0 average on a four-point scale. If the student has attended two or more institutions, the overall 2.0 will be computed on grades received in courses earned at all institutions attended unless the student presents an Associate of Arts degree. The University's admission policy for entering freshmen, however, will apply to transfer students who have attempted fewer than 24 semester hours of credit at another institution.

Coursework completed at SSU as a non-degree student will not contribute to the 2.0 GPA and 24 hour requirement. Students denied admission may not enroll as a non-degree student untill admission requirements are satisified.

Transfer students from accredited colleges enrolled in transfer programs will receive credit for the work that they have completed, with few exceptions. College Level Examination Program (CLEP) credit will be evaluated based on individual scores. Evaluations of students' previous coursework will be forwarded to them within several weeks of their admission. After being admitted to the University, students may make an appointment with a counselor in the Admissions Office to review the evaluation of transfer credit and to discuss selection of courses.

General Transfer Policies

1. Transfer credits are evaluated by the Admissions Office in accordance with the Maryland Higher Education Commission regulations on General Education and transfer. Such credits may generally be applied to the 120 hours (minimum) of credit required for graduation and, if approved by the appropriate department, may count toward requirements in a major at Salisbury State University.
2. A student attending Salisbury State University in any regular fall or spring semester has until the end of the semester to complete all forms and to have official transcripts of all prior work from other institutions sent to the SSU Admissions Office.
3. Grades do not transfer; the grade point average for a transfer student is computed only on the basis of coursework completed at SSU. Once a course is taken at Salisbury State University, the SSU grade point average is not affected by repeating the course at another institution. Grades of transfer courses will be calculated for admission to specific academic programs that require a particular grade point average. However, credit earned while a student is enrolled in recognized cooperative programs with other Maryland state colleges and universities will be accepted as credit earned at Salisbury State University. Coursework and grades earned will be applied toward graduation requirements at SSU and these grades will be counted in the SSU grade point average.
4. Credits earned in or transferred from a community college will be limited to 64 credits, and these hours may only be applied to credit at the 100 or 200 level.
5. To be eligible for the baccalaureate degree from Salisbury State University, transfer students must earn at least 30 of the final 37 hours of credit from this institution. Students enrolled in officially recognized cooperative institutions may include coursework taken at that institution within their final 30 hours at the University. Students completing their course requirements through an approved study abroad program are exempt from this policy.
6. Questions concerning the evaluation of transfer credit should be directed to the Office of Admissions. Students may appeal evaluations to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs within the academic year in which the evaluations were made. Transfer evaluations more than one year old are not subject to appeal.

Course-by-Course Evaluation of Transfer Credit

Students will have their work evaluated on a course-by-course basis. Detailed information concerning recommended transfer programs may be obtained by accessing SSU's Web site regarding transfer students. Courses a transferring student plans to apply toward a degree at Salisbury State University are evaluated in one of the following four categories:

1. Approved for General Education credit
2. Approved for lower-level credit
3. Approved for upper-level credit
4. Not approved for transfer credit

All courses approved for transfer credit will be listed as specific courses, as General Education or as elective credit at Salisbury State University. In order for any of these courses to qualify for upper-level credit at SSU, they must be taught at the upper level both at SSU and at the sending institution. All lower-level courses from the sending institution, all courses from community colleges and all courses which are upper level at the sending institution but which are lower level at Salisbury State University will be evaluated as lower-level courses. Some transferred courses, either upper level or lower level, may be used to satisfy requirements in particular majors. Each department determines its own policies in this matter and evaluates each student's record on a course-by-course basis.

While most courses from other accredited institutions are applicable to a degree at Salisbury State University, courses the University views as not academic in nature and which are not compatible with existing programs may not be transferred to the University and applied toward degrees.

For Former SSU Students

Readmission

Matriculated students who do not enroll at the University during a regular fall or spring semester must apply for readmission through the Admissions Office. Students who have been academically dismissed may only apply for readmission once they have reduced their deficit point totals to the appropriate levels. Students must declare a major at the time of readmission.

Students who have attended other institutions since leaving Salisbury State University must arrange to have official transcripts sent from those institutions directly to the Office of Admissions.

The deadline for applications for fall semester is July 1; for the spring semester, December 1. However, the University reserves the right to close readmission when the enrollment limit has been met.

Academic Clemency Policy

Salisbury State University recognizes that some students may, for a variety of reasons, develop academic records that do not reflect their true abilities. Students who leave the University with poor academic records may wish to receive academic clemency upon their return. To encourage students to try again after an unsuccessful experience, the University is prepared to extend academic clemency. Students are only eligible for clemency one time during their academic career.

Students who have not attended the University for at least five calendar years may request clemency. At the time of readmission, students seeking clemency must complete a clemency form and may petition to have up to 16 credit hours of D and F removed from their grade point averages. The grades of D and F will remain on the transcript with X beside them. When clemency is granted for D grades the previously earned credits will be lost. The grade point averages of students who have received clemency will be recalculated to reflect that clemency. Students who receive clemency are eligible to graduate with honors.

Contact the Academic Affairs Office, Holloway Hall Room 239, 410-543-6020, for detailed procedures.

Graduate Study

Salisbury State University is approved for graduate instruction by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and the Maryland Higher Education Commission. The University offers graduate programs leading to the Master of Business Administration, the Master of Education, the Master of Education with a major in public school administration, the Master of Arts in Teaching (in cooperation with the University of Maryland Eastern Shore), the Master of Arts in English, the Master of Arts in history, the Master of Science with a major in nursing and the Master of Science in applied health physiology. Graduate study is also available for teachers seeking to meet requirements for advanced certification in school administration and for post-baccalaureate students seeking graduate credit in both academic and professional areas.

During the fall and spring semesters, the majority of graduate students enroll for courses conducted in the University's evening program. This program consists mainly of courses meeting once weekly throughout the semester in either late afternoon or evening sessions of approximately three hours each. A limited number of courses open both to graduate students and advanced undergraduates is also available in the regular daytime program. In addition, graduate study is available during the University's summer session and winter term. Residence hall accommodations are available to graduate students only during the summer session and winter term.

Requirements for admission to graduate study include a completed Application to Graduate Study, the application fee and official transcripts from all undergraduate and graduate institutions attended. Additional requirements vary by specific program.

The Graduate Catalogue is available upon request from the Office of Admissions.

Continuing Education

Salisbury State University provides traditional and non-traditional courses to the community. The University offers flexible educational programs through day and evening courses, extension courses, non-credit courses, winter terms, summer sessions, workshops/conferences, short courses, institutes, undergraduate and graduate courses and other types of educational/experimental experiences, both on and off campus.

Goals

The goals of continuing education at Salisbury State University are as follows:

1. Identify community educational needs and interests for use in new and ongoing program development.
2. Contribute to the advancement of essential skills, training, knowledge and information through the Professional Development Institute.
3. Provide educational experiences that encourage intelligent action in response to social, economic and political issues.
4. Provide opportunities to continually update and/or upgrade professional skills.
5. Provide a variety of activities relating to personal and cultural development.
6. Provide increased educational opportunities at suitable locations and hours convenient to those who may participate.

Professional Development Institute

In addition to traditional programs and courses, the University designs "contract courses" through the Professional Development Institute. These may be of short or long duration to meet the special needs of people in the public and private sector. For example, the University offers non-credit short courses in management designed to improve and expand the specific skills for directing the activities of business, government, commercial and industrial organizations. These programs have a "how to" orientation that connects management theory and management practice. Firms that need a particular course or program should contact the University to explore possibilities.

Continuing Education Units (CEU)

Salisbury State University uses the Continuing Education Unit (CEU) for selected offerings in the Non-credit Continuing Education Program. The CEU is a nationally accepted method for recognizing, identifying, measuring and rewarding participation in non-credit certificate programs and special courses of varying lengths that are not part of the regular undergraduate or graduate degree programs. The CEU is defined as "10 contact hours of participation in an organized continuing education experience under responsible, sponsoring, capable direction and qualified instruction." Professional and personal growth may be assessed in this manner. Courses for which CEU credit will be awarded are designated with the CEU initials.

Institute for Retired Persons (IRP)

This program is conceived and administered by its student body of older Americans and is based on principles of self-determination and peer-teaching. The IRP promotes learning at a more leisurely pace, providing peer-teachers for encouragement and direction.

The IRP serves all participants over 50 or a retired person of any age. The program provides new courses, open forums, concerts, field trips and special programs. Retired persons interested in this new concept should contact the Registrar's Office.

Registration of Auditors And Undergraduate Non-Degree Students

Community members who have not earned a degree and wish to enroll for a limited number of undergraduate courses in the non-degree program during the academic year must register through the Registrar's Office. Undergraduate courses open to non-degree students appear in the University bulletins for the fall and spring semesters, winter terms and summer sessions. Information regarding registration procedures and deadlines is available in the Registrar's Office, 410-543-6150.

University Expenses

NOTE: Tuition and fees are for the 2000-2001 academic year. They may be changed and new ones established at any time by action of the Board of Regents of the University System of Maryland. Refer to the Cashier's Office for updated prices. All fees including those incurred by students for miscellaneous items such as lost library books and fines, parking fines, lost athletic equipment, telephone charges, disciplinary fines and damage to University property are also defined as "mandatory fees."

Identification Cards

All students must have a Salisbury State University identification card, required for the duration of enrollment for admission to most athletic, social and cultural events and as a general form of identification on campus. The Commons and Blackwell Library have electronic card readers, and valid identification cards are required for students wishing to use those facilities.

The ID card is activated by registration at the University (and with payment of a meal plan for boarding students). There is no charge for having identification cards made. If the card must be replaced through fault of the student, a $10 fee will be charged.

The Identification Office is located in Room 216 of Holloway Hall. Office hours are 8 a.m.-1:30 p.m. and 2:30-5 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Residency Determination

Residency determination is made upon admission and/or enrollment. The complete "Policy on Student Residency Classification for Admission, Tuition and Charge Differential Purposes" is located in Appendix B.

Student Classification

For tuition and fee purposes, a full-time undergraduate student is a student taking 12 or more credit hours each semester. Any student (regardless of classification or designation) taking 12 or more credit hours a semester is required to pay the full-time tuition and fees listed. A part-time student is a student taking 11 or fewer credit hours per semester for undergraduate or graduate credit. Any student (regardless of classification or designation) taking 11 or fewer credit hours a semester is required to pay the part-time tuition and fees itemized.

Students taking courses for audit or pass/fail or courses without credit designation will receive assigned equivalency credit hours for tuition and fee purposes.

Room and Board

Those students who have made residence hall reservations must claim their room no later than 5 p.m. on the day preceding the first day of classes. Students arriving after this date who wish to hold their room reservations may do so by notifying the Office of Housing and Residence Life no later than 5 p.m. on the day preceding the first day of classes.

Explanation of Fees

Athletics

Full-time students pay an athletics fee of $270 per academic year. Funds from this fee are assigned to the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and are used in implementing a well-rounded athletics program at the University. Athletics fees offset expenses incurred in the purchase of consumable supplies for varsity sports, the transportation of athletics teams, payment for athletics officials and numerous other services.

Facilities

All full-time students pay $628 per academic year and part-time students pay $4 per credit hour per semester toward construction costs (both principal and interest) for major renovation and/or construction projects not funded by the State of Maryland.

Guerrieri University Center

All full-time students contribute $190 per academic year to fund the Guerrieri University Center programs and operations.

Intramural

Full-time students pay an intramural fee of $60 per academic year. The Office of Campus Recreation uses these funds to implement a well-rounded intramural program at the University.

Student Activities

All full-time students pay a fee of $72 per academic year to meet expenses in connection with various social functions, student publications, dramatic productions and the other duly authorized student activities which take place during the academic year.

Motor Vehicle Registration

Students who operate motor vehicles on the University campus must register these vehicles with the Office of Public Safety, located in the Administrative Services Building, and pay a $20-40 per year parking fee. Parking permits are non-transferable. Freshman resident students are not permitted a vehicle on campus.

Readmission

All students seeking readmission to the University pay a nonrefundable readmission application fee of $30, which is not applied to the tuition and fee bill.

Additional Expenses

Books and Supplies

Books and classroom supplies may be purchased at the University bookstore, the Book Rack. Expenses will vary with the cost of books and other materials required for particular courses.

Special Courses

Certain courses require enrolled students to pay additional fees for special services and/or materials. All special course fees will be assessed and collected through normal student accounts receivable procedures. No fees should be paid directly to academic departments or individuals.

Payments and Adjustments

Advance Payments

Candidates seeking admission to the University must pay a nonrefundable $30 application fee when they submit the Admission Application. The application fee is not applied to any tuition or fees. After evaluation and review by the Admissions Office, the candidate is notified of status regarding admission. If accepted for admission, the student will receive (with the acceptance letter) a bill for an advance payment of $200, payable immediately, to assure the student placement in the appropriate class at time of entry. The $200 advance payment is nonrefundable but will be applied toward payment of the total tuition and fees which are due before the first day of classes. If the student fails to register, the $200 advance deposit is forfeited at the close of the late registration period as set forth in the official University calendar.

Students offered housing must pay an advance room and board deposit of $175 or greater to guarantee their room and board reservations for the next academic year. This deposit will be applied to the total bill during the second semester of the year; the contract is for the entire academic year (two semesters).

Students may cancel room and board reservations by petitioning for release from their contract. The petitions must be in writing to the director of housing and must be received prior to May 1 for the fall semester. For first-time students applying for the spring semester, the deposits are refundable if requested by December 1. The Housing/Residence Life Office will replace the petitioner with a student from the waiting list if possible. If not, the petitioner will forfeit the deposit, as well as incur a surcharge of $200.

Payments to the University

Student tuition and fees are due and payable to the University prior to the beginning of each semester on or before the date shown on the bill. Payment of tuition and fees by mail is encouraged. Students who do not observe the payment due date specified on the bill for any academic term are administratively dismissed from the University and are dis-enrolled from all of the classes for which they are preregistered.

Payment may be made by cash, check, money order or credit card. Checks and money orders should be payable to Salisbury State University. Credit cards which may be used for payment of the semester bill are VISA and MasterCard. Credit card authorizations for payment are not accepted over the telephone; Salisbury State University requires the cardholder to be present or to sign a payment authorization. The mailing address for payments and payment authorizations is Salisbury State University, P.O. Box 2195, Salisbury, MD 21802-2195. Payments may also be made in person at the Cashier's Office, Holloway Hall Room 219, Monday-Friday between the hours of 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Students who are receiving financial aid for full payment of their tuition, as well as those receiving refunds, are required to return their semester bill to verify their enrollment. No student's registration is complete without the semester bills having been satisfied.

Tax Relief Act of 1997

Two new post-secondary education tax credits have been included as a part of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997: the Hope Scholarship Tax Credit (effective January 1, 1998) and the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit (effective July 1, 1998). These laws may allow a tax credit for some higher education expenses. To ascertain whether or not a student qualifies for this benefit, it may be advisable for the student and/or parent to consult a tax professional; the University cannot provide students and/or parents with tax advice.

Returned Checks

Article 27, Section 142 of the Annotated Code of Maryland states that anyone who obtains money, etc., by bad check is subject to prosecution. All checks returned to Salisbury State University by the bank as "unpaid" (this includes checks on which payment has been stopped) must be paid within seven days of the University's notification to the student. If restitution has not been made within the allotted time, the maker of the check may be subject to prosecution. A $25 returned check fee is charged by the University (in addition to the face value of each check) to cover the costs of handling returned checks.

Should it become necessary to remand a debt to the Central Collection Unit of the State of Maryland, a collection fee of 17 percent or greater will be imposed and added to the principal balance. The University reserves the right to deny services to any student who has an account in arrears. This may include, but not be limited to, denial of registration and transcript privileges.

Eligibility for Refunds

To be eligible for any type of refund, a withdrawing student must do the following:

1. Submit a completed withdrawal form to the Office of the Registrar.
2. Notify the Office of Housing and Residence Life (if a resident student) of room cancellation.
3. Turn in the student ID card to the Identification Office.

No refund will be processed unless the student complies with the withdrawal procedures stated above.

Refunds are based on the date on which the withdrawal form is filed with the registrar. Failure to file the official notification will result in a forfeit of all right to refund. No withdrawals will be backdated. Students whose housing contracts and meal plans are terminated for disciplinary reasons are not eligible for refunds. Students dismissed by the University for disciplinary reasons are not entitled to any tuition or fee refunds.

The cost of repairs and/or replacement of any University property damaged by the student will be deducted from any refunds due the student. Damaged property will be inspected by the Physical Plant Office and a determination will be made of repair or replacement costs prior to any refund. Students also will be liable for common area damage assessed by the Office of Housing and Residence Life at the end of each semester.

Refund Policy

Refunds are made based on the following criteria, except for aid recipients who fall under the Return of Title IV Funds Policy guidelines which may be found in the Financial Aid Information section of this catalogue:

1. Students who withdraw from the University by the end of the official drop/add period for each session receive a refund of all tuition, fees, room and board except the $200 acceptance fee for new students, the $175 advance room deposit, a $200 breach of contract fee if a replacement cannot be found for a terminated housing contract, the per meal rate for meals eaten prior to a board plan's being dropped, and a $50 administrative fee.
2. Those who withdraw from the end of the official drop/add period through the 14th calendar day of classes receive a refund of 80 percent of tuition, room and board. No fees shall be refunded.
3. Students who withdraw from the 15th calendar day until the end of the third week of classes receive a refund of 60 percent of tuition, room and board. No fees shall be refunded.
4. Students who withdraw during the fourth week of classes receive a refund of 40 percent of tuition, room and board. No fees shall be refunded.
5. Students who withdraw during the fifth week of classes receive a refund of 20 percent of tuition, room and board. No fees shall be refunded.
6. Students who withdraw after the end of the fifth week of classes receive no refund of tuition, room or board.

Individuals who change their schedules from full-time to part-time status during the official drop/add period of the University will be entitled to credit based on the difference between the full-time tuition and fee charge and the part-time per credit hour tuition and fee charge.

The University refund policy is effective for students who withdraw from all courses and for those who drop courses by the end of the official drop/add period. It is not effective for students who withdraw from a portion of their scheduled courses during the schedule adjustment period. It also does not apply to the self-supporting terms (winter and summer). Questions regarding refunds should be directed to the Cashier's Office. Appeals for exceptions to this policy must be in writing to the Office of the Vice President of Administration and Finance, Holloway Hall Room 228, Salisbury State University, P.O. Box 2195, Salisbury, MD 21802-2195.

Financial Aid Information

NOTE: Students applying for aid from Salisbury State University who are eligible to apply for the Federal Pell Grant are required to do so before aid from the University will be awarded.

General Information

What is Financial Aid?

Financial aid is any grant, scholarship, loan or paid employment offered for the express purpose of helping a student meet educationally related expenses. Such aid is usually provided by or through federal and state agencies, foundations, corporations, and the colleges and universities themselves. Grants and scholarships are regarded as "gift" assistance and need not be repaid although they may carry certain provisions.

Loans are usually offered at low interest rates and can be repaid over an extended period after the student leaves the institution. Where aid is offered in the form of a job, the student is paid an hourly rate for work actually performed.

The amounts and types of financial aid that students receive are determined through federal, state and local guidelines, and are offered to students in combinations or "packages" designed to fit applicants' financial needs.

What is Financial Need?

Financial need is the dollar-amount difference between the funds students can provide and their University expenses. Salisbury State University expects students and their parents to contribute to the fullest of their ability from income and assets in meeting University expenses. Financial aid is designed to supplement, but not replace, these primary resources. Therefore, the University's aid programs are based on the financial need of families. It is students' responsibility to apply for any additional scholarship for which they may be eligible.

Eligibility Requirements And Procedures

To be eligible to apply initially for financial aid, students must meet the following criteria:

1. Be matriculated (formally admitted to the University).
2. Be enrolled in a degree-seeking program of study.
3. Be enrolled for at least part time.

Once students are studying at Salisbury State University and wish to reapply for financial aid, they must meet the qualifications below:

1. Remain matriculated.
2. Remain enrolled in a degree-seeking program of study.
3. Continue making satisfactory academic progress.

All students must reapply every year for continuation of financial aid, and are required to report to the Financial Aid Office any new scholarships, loans, grants and earnings from employment not recorded on the original, initial financial aid application. This information is used to reassess students' financial needs and if needs are reduced, aid will be reduced accordingly. When aid must be reduced, the Financial Aid Office attempts to adjust the amount students will receive for the upcoming semester in that semester. But in cases where such adjustments cannot be made in time and students receive aid in excess of assessed need, the University bills students in the amount of the overaward.

Students who receive financial aid are notified in an award letter and must, in turn, notify the Financial Aid Office that they accept the aid awarded. Students who do not notify the office of their acceptance of aid awarded by the date indicated in the award letter are subject to aid cancellation.

Return of Title IV Funds Policy

The federal government's policy states that if a Title IV aid recipient (Direct Stafford Loan, Direct PLUS Loan, Carl Perkins loan, Pell Grant, SEOG) withdraws from the institution during a period of enrollment in which the recipient began attendance, the institution must calculate the percentage and amount of Title IV assistance the student did not earn and return those funds to the Title IV programs. Once 60 percent of the enrollment period has elapsed, 100 percent of the aid is determined to be earned and no calculation is required. A refund worksheet is provided in Appendix C.

Application Procedures For University Financial Aid Programs

Students who wish to apply for financial aid must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) indicating that Salisbury State University (Title IV Code 002091) is to receive the information. They may be asked to submit signed and dated copies of students' and parents' income tax forms from the previous year, as well as any other relevant information required by the Financial Aid Office. In addition, students who have attended another postsecondary (after high school) educational institution must submit a Financial Aid Transcript from each school, regardless of whether or not aid was received. No application will be considered complete until all of these forms are received by the Financial Aid Office.

The University's financial aid deadline is March 1 for the following academic year. Students may apply as early as January 1 but no later than six weeks in advance of the deadline date. This allows time to process the FAFSA and have the results forwarded to the Financial Aid Office. Applications received after March 1 will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis. Although incoming freshmen and transfer students are not offered financial aid until they have been formally admitted to the University, they must meet the same application deadline. Immediate processing of new applications or announcements of results prior to the beginning of the school year cannot be assured; therefore, an alternate arrangement for bill payment should be made. If funds are still available, cases will be processed during the school year.

Disbursement of Financial Aid

Confirmed aid recipients who preregister (thereby generating an early bill) will receive financial aid credit directly on the statement of fees. Any balance still due the student after all charges have been deducted will be disbursed to the student as a refund check during the first week of the classes each semester.

Recipients who must register in person (thereby generating a bill at the time of registration) will receive any refund amount due after all charges have been deducted after the first month of classes (allow 40-60 days). Adjustments require additional time.

If the financial aid amount credited (or refunded) includes a Federal Carl Perkins Loan (FCPL), the recipient MUST sign the appropriate loan forms in the Business and Finance Office during the first full week of classes each semester. Recipients with FCPL credit who either receive no refund or have a "0" balance also MUST sign the loan forms before the end of the first full week of classes each semester. Each loan disbursement/credit requires a signature as receipt of the FCPL amount. Loan forms must be properly completed and signed by the deadline or the FCPL credit will be withdrawn and the recipient will be responsible for the FCPL amount previously credited. Students who do not have their bills cleared and finalized run the risk of having their classes canceled and permission withdrawn for registering the following semester.

Financial Aid Satisfactory Progress Policy

Introduction

Federal regulations require that institutions of higher education establish minimum standards of "Satisfactory Progress" for students receiving financial aid. This means the Financial Aid Office is required to measure each financial aid recipient's progress toward obtaining a degree. Students who fail to meet the requirements are ineligible to participate in the following programs: Federal Pell Grant, Federal Carl Perkins Loan, Federal SEOG, Federal Work Study, state grants/scholarships, SSU grants and William D. Ford Federal Direct Student Loans. Financial Aid Programs

Federal Grants and Loans

Federal Pell Grant

The Federal Pell Grant is an "entitlement" program for first-time bachelor's-degree candidates. Degree-seeking students are eligible to apply for the grants ranging from $200 to $3,300 depending on the federal formula. The grant is awarded by the federal government, not Salisbury State University. Applications are available from the Financial Aid Office or high school guidance counselors. All students applying for financial aid from SSU are required to apply for the Federal Pell Grant. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) may be used to apply for the Maryland State Scholarships, campus-based aid and the Federal Pell Grant.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Student Loan Programs

Salisbury State University participates in the William D. Ford Federal Direct Student Loan Programs (Direct Loan) which replace the Federal Family Student Loan Programs (Stafford Loans).

The Direct Loan enables degree-seeking students enrolled in at least six credit hours to borrow money directly from the federal government rather than private lending institutions (i.e., banks, credit unions). Loans can easily and quickly be obtained by submitting the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and signing a Promissory Note. Undergraduate students can borrow up to $2,625 per annum for the freshman year, $3,500 for the sophomore year and $5,500 for the third through fifth year. The interest rate is capped at 8.25 percent with repayment beginning six months after recipients drop below six credits.

Parents also may borrow through the William D. Ford Federal Direct PLUS Program by completing the Direct Parent Loan Application and Promissory Note and submitting them to Salisbury State University for certification. SSU will electronically send the information to the Department of Education which will approve the loan provided the parents do not have adverse credit history. Parents may borrow up to the cost of attendance at the institution minus other estimated financial assistance for the student. Repayment begins 60 days after the loan is disbursed.

Information on the William D. Ford Federal Direct Student Loan Programs is available in the Financial Aid Office.

Student Health Services, located in the south end of Holloway Hall across from the library, provides confidential treatment of illness and injuries through a well-equipped facility and certified, experienced professional staff, including two registered nurses and three nurse practitioners. Physician services are provided daily by Emergency Service Associates, a group of emergency room physicians, all board certified. Other services are available five minutes from campus at Peninsula Regional Medical Center which includes a modern 400-bed facility and an emergency room open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

If a student contracts a contagious disease or acute illness, the family is notified and required to arrange for the student's care until recovery.

Prior to treatment in Student Health Services, each student is required to complete a health history form. An up-to-date immunization record is required of all students regardless of age. Failure to provide this information may result in the student being unable to register for classes.

The University assumes no financial responsibility for student care other than that provided by Student Health Services. Students are urged to carry their own accident and health insurance since the University is not legally responsible for accidental injuries and resulting medical expenses. Students are encouraged to continue with their parents' coverage or to seek advice from an independent broker.

In addition to clinical services, a wide range of co-curricular health promotion and educational programs are provided in a variety of campus settings.

New Student Experience

The University's New Student Experience program is designed to help new students achieve success in college. It has seven equally important components:

University Visits

For high school students, and for college students considering transferring, deciding on a college requires comprehensive information about that college's campus, faculty, staff, students and programs. SSU provides this opportunity at its Saturday Open Houses, held monthly throughout the academic year. Prospective students also may learn about the University during weekday visits arranged through the Admissions Office. In either case, prospective students learn what they need in order to make an informed choice.

Preview (Summer Advising and Course Registration)

All new students come to the campus for one day in the summer and participate in discussions on campus life, academic and career planning, and registration for the fall semester. Information is provided about financial aid, dining service, housing, parking and student organizations.

New Student Orientation Seminars

All new students and transfer students with fewer than 24 credits enroll in a brief orientation in which they learn important academic skills, become aware of campus services and organizations, and develop supportive relationships with others in the campus community. Students may complete this requirement through several alternative experiences in the summer before beginning their freshman year or in a classroom setting on campus during their first semester at SSU. No credit toward graduation is awarded for this course.

Welcome Week

The Office of Student Activities and Organizations seeks to provide events that will allow new and current students an opportunity to become involved with campus life, complement the classroom experience with co-curricular activities and aid in forming relationships with the students.

Fall Convocation

Fall Convocation marks the beginning of each academic year. Music, the procession of the faculty in academic regalia and a special address by a faculty member mark this traditional ceremony designed to encourage new students to reflect on the meaning of a college education and the challenges facing them. Fall Convocation is held in the auditorium of Holloway Hall and culminates "Welcome Week Activities."

Family Weekend

Family Weekend is planned for the families of new and returning students. Held in October, this event provides family members an opportunity to visit the campus, meet with professors and staff, sit in on class sessions typical of the University's course offerings, and attend special events in order to observe firsthand the transition new students make to University life.

Honors Convocation

Each year during the spring semester, an Honors Convocation is held. At this event, public recognition is given to students who have made outstanding contributions to campus life and who have distinguished themselves academically. Information on all awards is available from the Office of the Vice President of Student Affairs.

Registration and Student Records

Registrar's Office

The Registrar's Office, located in Holloway Hall, handles registration for all credit bearing courses offered by the University and maintains student biographical and academic records. Each academic semester, prior to preregistration, the office publishes the Registration Bulletin which contains a comprehensive academic calendar, registration procedures, a complete list of course offerings, and other materials pertinent to the advisement and registration process for the upcoming terms. The Final Academic Schedule, available shortly before the start of the fall and spring semesters, contains an updated list of course offerings. Course offerings are also made available each semester via the World Wide Web.

Registration

General Information

To receive academic credit for a course, a student must be officially registered for the course. Normally, students are not allowed to enroll in any new coursework after the first week of classes. The University reserves the right to discontinue any under-enrolled courses or course sections.

Academic Advisors

Academic advisors provide students with pertinent information about their majors and assist in planning their programs of study. Once students have selected their majors, they are assigned faculty advisors in their major departments. Until majors are chosen, students are assigned advisors by the Office of Academic Affairs. Students are encouraged to make an appointment with their faculty advisors early in the semester to discuss their programs and goals. Students must confer with their assigned academic advisors regarding course selection, requirements and other academic matters prior to registration each semester.

University System of Maryland Inter-Institutional Registration Program

Salisbury State University and UMES have established a Credit Exchange Program for full-time undergraduate students. With the prior approval of both institutions, students at SSU may participate in the program and may enroll in courses which are offered at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore. Students participating in the exchange program pay fees to Salisbury State and the credit which is earned in this program is considered as credit earned at Salisbury State. Grades for courses in the program are used in computing the SSU grade point average.

Students also may attend other University System of Maryland institutions as a part of an Inter-Institutional Enrollment Program. In order to participate, a student must be a full-time student taking at least 50 percent of the course credit at SSU. For additional information, contact the Registrar's Office.

Preregistration

Matriculated freshmen enrolling for the fall semester participate in an organized advisement and registration session during the summer orientation program. An abbreviated program is provided for matriculated transfer students entering for the fall semester, and all matriculated new students entering for the spring semester.

In November and April, preregistration/program planning packets for the subsequent semester are made available to all matriculated students by the Registrar's Office. Packets for resident students are delivered via their campus post office boxes. Packets for off-campus students are made available for pick-up at the Registrar's Office. Students are responsible for establishing advisement appointments with their faculty advisors. Completed Program Planning Forms must be approved by the faculty advisor and returned to the Registrar's Office or entered via the Gull Line telephone student information system with the use of an advisement identification number provided by the advisor.

Non-matriculated students may register for fall and spring semester courses during the time periods indicated in the academic calendar.

Summer and winter term registrations for all students occur during the two-week preregistration/program planning period and at designated times prior to the start of classes.

Registration by Telephone

Students may register, drop and add courses, identify open course sections, obtain a listing of their course schedule, and receive grades for completed courses via the Gull Line. The Gull Line is a menu-driven telephone student information system from which students can obtain financial aid, registration and records, and billing information. The Gull Line can be accessed by calling 410-546-6426.

To register via the Gull Line, students must first meet with their faculty advisor and obtain an advisement identification number. While initial use of the registration portion of the telephone system during preregistration requires the use of this advisement identification number, subsequent uses during that term do not require use of the number. To make full use of the Gull Line, students should refer to the instructions published in the Registration Bulletin and Final Academic Schedule. The telephone system is available for registration purposes only during the time periods noted in the Registration Bulletin and Final Academic Schedule. Non matriculated students or students who have not been formally admitted to the University via the Admissions Office may not utilize the Gull Line.

Students who elect not to use the Gull Line may register and perform other registration and records functions in the Registrar's Office.

Priority Drop/Add

Priority drop/add enables students who preregistered for the fall or spring semesters, but were closed out of one or more courses or course sections, to adjust their class schedules before the start of the semester. This opportunity occurs during the last week of spring classes for students registering for the fall semester, and during the last week of fall classes for students registering for the spring semester. Students who are eligible for priority drop/add are notified in advance by the Registrar's Office.

Drop/Add Period

Students may adjust their course schedules during the drop/add period which takes place during the first week of classes, for courses that meet two or more days per week. The period is extended through the second week for courses that meet one day per week. Courses that are officially dropped during this period do not appear on the student's permanent academic record.

Deregistration from Full Classes

During the drop/add period, instructors of courses that have reached maximum enrollment may instruct the Registrar's Office to deregister individual students provided the following criteria are met:

1. The student has missed two consecutive class meetings/days during the drop/add period.
2. The student has not notified the instructor of their intention to remain in the class.

Deregistrations are performed to allow other students access to filled courses.

Late Registration

Students registering during the drop/add period will be assessed a late registration fee. Previously registered students who add classes to their schedule must pay any additional tuition and/or fee charges immediately. Students will be assessed a late payment fee for payments received after the drop/add period, which are not part of a previously established payment plan.

Schedule Adjustment Period

After the drop/add period students may officially withdraw from any course during the schedule adjustment period and receive a grade of W. This period extends until mid-semester during the fall and spring semesters and five days following mid-semester during the summer and winter terms. Students may not withdraw from individual courses after the schedule adjustment period.

Graduate Credit

Salisbury State University undergraduates with cumulative GPAs of at least 2.75 and are within six semester hours of completing their baccalaureate degree may register for up to six hours of graduate credit to be completed concurrently with their remaining degree requirements. Students wishing to register for graduate credit within the Perdue School of Business must present a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0. Graduate courses completed under this arrangement cannot be used to satisfy a student's remaining undergraduate degree requirements.

Students planning to enroll for graduate credit during their final semester as an undergraduate must submit a completed Application for Admission to Graduate Study form with the required fee to the Admissions Office, and a completed Application for Graduate Credit in Senior Year form with the signature approvals of both their current faculty advisor and the graduate program director, along with their program planning form to the Registrar's Office.

Declaration/Change of Major

The University encourages students to seek guidance from professionals within their fields of interest by recommending that they declare a major as early in their programs as possible. Students are required to declare a major upon completion of 45 semester hours of coursework. Students may declare more than one major. Individuals failing to declare a major are not allowed to register for subsequent semesters. Students wishing to declare or change their major should submit a completed Change of Major form with the signature approval of their new department or program to the Registrar's Office.

Pass/Fail Credit Option

During their junior and senior years, students may take courses on a pass/fail basis, subject to the following conditions:

1. Courses taken on a pass/fail basis may not be used to satisfy General Education, major or minor requirements with the exception of non-traditional credit awards and field-based courses where pass/fail is the only grading option. In addition, courses used to satisfy the University's 300/400 level requirement may not be taken on a pass/fail basis.
2. Students may take as many as four courses under the pass/fail option but may elect only one pass/fail credit course per semester unless a course is offered only on a pass/fail basis.
3. Students on academic probation may not elect to take any courses on a pass/fail basis if the courses are offered for a grade.

Individual courses can be designated as pass/fail by submitting a properly completed Change Form for PS/F, AU, Credit Hours to the Registrar' Office. Changes to or from pass/fail are permitted only during the preregistration, registration and drop/add periods.

Auditing Courses

Audited courses bear the same tuition and fees as for credit coursework graded in a traditional manner. Audited courses are not counted as part of an individual's course load and cannot be used to satisfy any graduation requirement. Students are assigned W grades for non-attendance. Individual courses can be designated as audit by submitting a properly completed Change Form for PS/F, AU, Credit Hours to the Registrar's Office. Changes to or from audit are permitted only during the preregistration, registration and drop/add periods.

Repeating in Courses

Unless otherwise indicated in the course description, students may not receive credit more than once for courses covering the same or similar content or topics. Students repeating a course covering the same or similar content will receive credit for the last occurrence of the course only, provided the course is graded A, B, C, D, F or I. Repeated coursework is noted as such on the student record, remains in the student's attempted hour calculations, and is removed from the earned hour, quality point and GPA calculations.

Multiple occurrences of the same course will be allowed for topics courses covering different material, independent study courses, performance courses, and other courses where the course descriptions and department policy allow.

Credit Hours and Course Loads

Where lecture courses are concerned, one semester hour is granted for approximately one class hour per week. Because of the nature of activity, laboratory, performance, studio and other types of courses, more in-class time is typically required. Students are expected to support each credit hour for which they enroll with a minimum three hours per week of combined classroom, laboratory, performance, studio and outside study activities, based upon their individual registrations. Thus, students enrolling in 15 semester hours should spend a minimum of 45 hours in coursework related activities each week.

Most programs at the University are designed for completion within a four-year time period, provided the student completes an average of 15 to 16 semester hours of coursework each regular semester. While 12 to 19 semester hours is considered full-time for tuition purposes, 15 hours of coursework is considered by the University to be an average load. Students registering for more than 19 semester hours of coursework during any given semester must have the approval of the dean of the school housing their major program.

Student Records

Change of Name/Student Number

Students wishing to change or correct their name, Social Security number or other biographical information should contact the Registrar's Office for current policies and procedures.

Change of Address

Students must keep the University apprised of changes to their permanent, billing and local addresses and telephones by notifying the Registrar's Office on a timely basis.

Classification of Students

Students are classified according to the number of semester hours completed with grades of A, B, C, D or PS as follows:

Freshman	0-29	Junior	60-89
Sophomore	30-59	Senior	90 and above

Students also are designated as follows:

Matriculated Undergraduate Students

Matriculated or degree seeking students are full-time or part-time degree candidates and are assigned a faculty advisor in an academic department.

Undergraduate Non-Degree Students

Undergraduate non-degree students (UND) are students usually pursuing one or two courses for personal or professional development and are not assigned an advisor. Upon completion of 30 semester hours, these students must apply for admission to the University as matriculated students. There are two types of UND students who are assigned advisors:

1. Provisional students, who are first-time students to the University. They are full-time, non-matriculated students attending under the direction of the dean of admissions.
2. Restricted-status students, who have been academically dismissed but who are permitted to continue to attend the University under the direction of special academic programs. The director assigns these students to advisors.

Full-Time/Part-Time Enrollment Status

Enrollment status (full- or part-time) is determined by the number of credits students have completed or are pursuing. All students enrolled for 12 or more semester hours pay full-time fees and tuition regardless of classification. Students enrolled for 11 or fewer semester hours pay tuition assessed on a per credit basis and pay part-time fees.

Grading System

The following grades are used to indicate students' achievement in individual courses:

A - Excellent
Denotes superior achievement. The A grade is reserved for outstanding performance.

B - Very good
Denotes high achievement. It is a mark of distinction.

C - Satisfactory
Denotes adequate achievement.

D - Passing
Denotes marginal achievement. The D grade indicates minimal exposure to the principles and techniques presented.

F - Failure
Denotes inadequate achievement. The F grade is also given for late or unofficial withdrawals.

The following symbols are not accompanied by quality points and do not contribute to students' grade point averages. They may, however, appear on students' permanent records and are defined accordingly.

I - Incomplete
Noncompletion of a course due to unavoidable circumstances beyond the student's control. The I automatically becomes an F if coursework is not completed prior to midsemester of the next full semester for which the student is enrolled, or at the end of one calendar year, whichever is earlier.

PS - Pass
A passing grade for credit-bearing courses taught or taken on a pass/fail basis.

S - Pass
Not for University credit—a passing grade in those courses which cannot be applied to undergraduate degree requirements.
CS - Continuing Satisfactorily
Satisfactory progress in a developmental studies course which extends into a subsequent semester.
AU - Audit
Approved attendance without credit.
W - Withdrawal
Official withdrawal from a course during the schedule adjustment period.
WP/WF - Withdrawal Passing/Withdrawal Failing
Official withdrawal from the University after the schedule adjustment period, denoting passing or failing status at the time of the withdrawal.
NR - Grade Not Reported by Instructor
IP - In Progress
Used for grading ongoing theses and research projects, internships, or independent studies which extend into a subsequent term. Unlike the I grade, the IP grade does not automatically become an F at the end of a given time interval.
R - Repeated Course
Preceding a grade (RA, RB, RC, RD, RF), denotes that the course has been repeated. A repeated course is removed from attempted hours (AHRS), earned hours (EHRS), quality hours (QHRS) and the grade point average calculations. The new course and grade are included in the hour and grade point average calculations.
X - Clemency Grade
Preceding a grade of D or F (XD, XF) denotes that academic clemency has been granted for the course, and that the course has been removed from attempted hours (AHRS), earned hours (EHRS), quality hours (QHRS) and the grade point average calculations.
NOTE: Students who need to meet eligibility criteria for athletics, financial aid, scholarships, etc. should be aware that courses with grades of W, WP, WF, I or IP will not be included in credits successfully completed.

Grade Point System

Only courses completed at Salisbury State University or through certain approved cooperative programs, and assigned grades of A, B, C, D and F, are used in the grade point average (GPA) calculations.

Grade point averages are calculated in the following manner:

1. Quality points are assigned to letter grades such that A=4, B=3, C=2, D=1 and F=0. Quality points for individual courses are computed by multiplying the quality points assigned an individual letter grade by the credit hours received for the course.
2. The current or semester GPA is calculated by dividing the quality points earned for all applicable courses (QPTS) for the semester by the credit hours received for those courses (QHRS) during the semester, for example:

Course	Credit Hours	Grade	Quality Points
English 101	3	B	9
History 101	3	D	3
Chemistry 121	4	A	16

Transfer of Credit from Other Institutions

Students who have attended other regionally accredited institutions may be admitted to the University based upon the current transfer admission policy.

General Transfer Policies

1. Transferred coursework is not included within the Salisbury State University current or semester or cumulative GPA calculations. Likewise, Salisbury State University coursework repeated at another institution will not impact the current or semester or cumulative GPA calculations. However, coursework grades from other institutions may be used along with coursework completed at Salisbury State University when determining eligibility for participation in major and minor programs and other study options.
2. Students must complete 30 of the last 37 hours of coursework at Salisbury State University. However, students enrolled in approved cooperative programs or study abroad options may request to have additional coursework included in their final 37 hours.
3. Coursework completed at other institutions is evaluated for transfer by the Admissions Office. A maximum of 90 credit hours from two- and four-year institutions, and 64 credit hours from two-year institutions, may be applied to the 120 credit hour minimum required for graduation. Transferred coursework may be used to satisfy General Education requirements at Salisbury State University and, when approved, coursework requirements for major and minor programs and other study options.
4. Official transcripts of all coursework completed at other institutions must be received by the Admissions Office by the close of the student's first semester (fall or spring) at Salisbury State University. The University reserves the right to refuse the transfer of coursework where official transcripts are not received in a timely manner.
5. Questions related to the evaluation of transferred coursework should be directed to the Admissions Office. Appeals should be directed to the Academic Affairs Office within one academic year of the student's first attendance. Evaluations which are more than one year old are not subject to appeal.

Taking Courses at Another Institution

Currently admitted, degree-seeking students at Salisbury State University may transfer coursework from other institutions based upon the following policy:

1. Coursework must be pre-approved by the Registrar's Office or the Admissions Office transfer counselor. Coursework applicable to the student's major must also be approved by the department chair for that major. Request to Study at Another Institution forms are available from the Registrar's Office.
2. Coursework must be completed with grades of A, B, C or PS (where courses are graded on a pass/fail basis only).
3. Official transcripts of the coursework completed must be received from the other institution by the close of the student's next semester (fall or spring) at Salisbury State University.
4. Students must complete 30 of the last 37 hours of coursework at Salisbury State University. Coursework falling within the final 30 credit hours for degree completion must be pre-approved by the Academic Affairs Office.

Coursework completed by students enrolled in the Inter-Institutional Registration Program of the University System of Maryland will be treated as credit earned at Salisbury State University. Coursework will be applied toward graduation requirements, and grades included within the GPA calculations at the University.

Inter-Institutional Concurrent Enrollment and Cooperative Dual Degree Programs

Credit earned while students are enrolled in either the Inter-Institutional Concurrent Enrollment programs with University System of Maryland member institutions and/or the Cooperative Dual-Degree programs with the University of Maryland Eastern Shore and other institutions are treated as credit earned at Salisbury State University. Coursework and grades earned as a part of these programs are included within the University attempted hour, earned hour, quality point and grade point average calculations.

Withdrawal from the University

Students may withdraw from the University before the administration of their final examinations, but no later than 5 p.m. on the last day of classes. Any student who withdraws from the University during any period of instruction must complete a Withdrawal Form obtained from the Registrar's Office. Students who officially withdraw from the University after the schedule adjustment period receive grades of WP and WF to denote their grade status at the time of withdrawal. Nonattendance of classes does not constitute withdrawal from the University. Students who do not officially withdraw from the University forfeit their right to any tuition refund. Matriculated students who have withdrawn from the University and wish to be reinstated as such, must be readmitted by submitting an Application for Readmission form with the required fee to the Admissions Office.

Readmission

Matriculated students who fail to enroll at the University during a regular fall or spring semester, or official withdraw from the University and wish to be reinstated as such, must be readmitted by submitting an Application for Readmission form with the required fee to the Admissions Office. Students who have been academically dismissed may apply for readmission after they have reduced their deficit point totals to the appropriate levels. Students who have attended other institutions after leaving the University must arrange to have official transcripts sent directly to the Admissions Office. Contact the Admissions Office for readmission deadline information.

Transcripts

The Registrar's Office issues transcripts only upon the written request of the student. All financial obligations to the University must be met before transcripts are issued. Requests can be made in person, by mail or fax. In-person requests for official transcripts should be made using a Transcript Request form. Mail or fax requests made without a Transcript Request form must include the student's full name, the name used while enrolled at the University if different from current name, Social Security number, current mailing address and daytime telephone, the complete name and mailing address of the individual or organization to receive the transcript, any other pertinent instructions and a clear signature. Requests should be mailed to Registrar's Office, Salisbury State University, 1101 Camden Avenue, Salisbury, MD 21801-6860, or faxed to 410-548-5979. Scholastic Standards

Academic Integrity

The foremost virtue upon which the academic life is based is integrity, a faithful and persistent pursuit of the truth. Integrity is a principle which permeates all the activities of the University and which guides the behavior of faculty, students and staff. The spirit of academic integrity denotes adherence to the precept that "one's work is one's own." The process by which integrity is upheld assumes clear communication of University expectations, standards and policies, and clear communication of students' and faculty's rights and responsibilities.

Academic misconduct is a breach of academic integrity which may include, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Plagiarism—presenting as one's own work, whether literally or in paraphrase, the work of another.
2. Cheating on exams, tests and quizzes—the wrongful giving or accepting of unauthorized assistance, the giving or taking of unauthorized exam material and/or the use of illegitimate sources of information.
3. Illicit collaboration with other individuals in the completion of course assignments.
4. The use of fraudulent methods in laboratory, studio, field or computer work.
5. Other acts generally recognized as dishonorable which bear upon academic endeavors.

Procedures for handling cases of academic misconduct are listed in the Student Handbook.

Good Academic Standing

Students enter Salisbury State University in good academic standing. Students who have received SSU grades and whose Salisbury State University cumulative grade point averages are 2.0 or higher remain in good academic standing.

Unsatisfactory Academic Achievement

Deficit Point System

The number of deficit points represents the approximate number of credit hours which the student needs to improve in order to reach good academic standing. To calculate the number of deficit points for a student whose SSU cumulative grade point average is below 2.0, the Office of Academic Affairs uses these rules; each hour of D credit counts as one deficit point; each hour of F credit counts as two deficit points; each hour of B credit reduces the deficit point total by one; each hour of A credit reduces the deficit point total by two; and all other grades (including transfer grades, SSU C credits, etc.) are ignored.

Students may reduce deficit point totals by taking new courses and earning grades of A or B. In addition, because only the most recent SSU grade earned in a course is used to compute SSU grade point averages, students may reduce their deficit point totals by repeating courses with low SSU grades and earning higher SSU grades. Each letter grade of improvement will remove one deficit point for each credit hour of the course. For example, if a student earned an F in a three-credit course and subsequently repeated the course and earned a B, the student would have improved the original grade by three letter grades and would have reduced the deficit point total by nine deficit points. A student who earns a B in a new three-credit course reduces the deficit point total by three.

Academic Probation and Dismissal

Students whose Salisbury State University cumulative grade point average is less than 2.0 acquire deficit points (explained above) and are placed on academic probation or are dismissed.

First Semester Students (Freshman and Transfer)

Academic Probation

Students who acquire one or more deficit points during their first semester are placed on academic probation. Students on academic probation may register for up to 15 credit hours per semester but may not elect to take any courses on a pass/fail basis if the courses are offered for a grade.

Dismissal

First semester students are not academically dismissed during their first semester. During their second semester, students on academic probation who do not earn a semester grade point average of 2.0 are dismissed. During the third and subsequent semesters these students are considered continuing students and are subject to the policies below.

Continuing Students

Academic Probation

Students who accumulate one to 12 deficit points are placed on academic probation. Students on academic probation may register for up to 15 credit hours per semester but may not elect to take any courses on a pass/fail basis if the courses are offered for a grade.

Dismissal

Students who accumulate 13 or more deficit points are academically dismissed. Students on academic probation who do not reduce their deficit points and make a 2.0 grade point average each semester are dismissed. Part-time students on academic probation in a fall or spring semester, or students on academic probation during a winter or summer session, may not increase their deficit point totals or they are dismissed.

Dismissed Students

Dismissed students are allowed to attend the University only as restricted-status students taking no more than seven credit hours per semester. Students dismissed while on probation may apply for readmission on academic probation once they have six or fewer deficiency points AND they have fewer deficit points than they had when dismissed. Such students remain on academic probation until they have a grade point average of 2.0 or better. Students dismissed because they accumulated more than 12 deficit points may apply for readmission on academic probation once their deficit point totals have been reduced to six or fewer. Dismissed students who have not attended the University for two years but who can demonstrate evidence of good academic promise may apply for readmission as students on special probation. Dismissed students who increase their deficit point totals may be denied permission to register for classes at the University.

More detailed information about deficit points, restricted status, academic probation, special probation, academic dismissal and readmission is available from the Office of Academic Affairs.

Academic Clemency Policy

Salisbury State University recognizes that some students may, for a variety of reasons, develop academic records that do not reflect their true abilities. Students who leave the University with poor academic records may wish to receive academic clemency upon their return. To encourage students to try again after an unsuccessful experience, the University is prepared to extend academic clemency.

Clemency may be requested by students who have not attended the University for at least five calendar years. Students are only eligible for clemency one time during their academic career. Students seeking clemency must complete a clemency form and may petition to have up to 16 credit hours of D and F removed from the grade point averages. The grades of D and F will remain on the transcript with X beside them. When clemency is granted for D grades the previously earned credits will be lost. The grade point averages of students who have received clemency will be recalculated to reflect that clemency. Students who receive clemency are eligible to graduate with honors.

Contact the Office of Academic Affairs, Holloway Hall Room 239, 410-543-6020, for detailed procedures.

Class Attendance

The faculty regards the classroom as the center of University life and students are expected to attend all classes. There are no officially excused absences. In the case of an absence, the student is responsible for all material presented and assigned.

Each instructor provides students with a written attendance policy at the first class meeting.

Absence Notification

In the case of an extreme emergency or prolonged illness, the Student Affairs Office notifies class instructors of the dates of a student's absence from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the Student Affairs Office of emergencies and illnesses.

Professors establish their own attendance policy. Notification of absence is a service to students and faculty; it is not an official excuse from classes and work missed.

Waivers of Academic Policies And Procedures

Under unusual circumstances students may wish to seek waivers of academic policies and procedures. In such cases students should consult with their faculty advisors for detailed information about steps for seeking waivers.

Academic Services

Academic Advising

Academic advising is a process which helps students identify their career and life goals and assists in the development of an educational plan that helps students meet these goals. Effective advising occurs when there exists a partnership between the advisor and the advisee; each fulfilling the responsibilities of their role. Students are responsible for seeking out their advisors for aid in addressing academic issues.

Matriculated students are responsible for their own academic programs and for meeting all University and departmental requirements. To plan coursework effectively, students should familiarize themselves with the academic regulations and programs described in this catalogue and other University publications.

Academic advisors are available for all matriculated students. For students who have declared majors, the advisors are faculty in the major department. For students who have not declared majors, academic advisors are assigned from the faculty by the Office of Academic Affairs.

Students must confer with their assigned academic advisors regarding course selection, requirements and other academic matters prior to registration each semester.

Students registered as undergraduate non-degree students are not assigned faculty advisors.

Provisional students are under the direction of the dean of admissions and are assigned advisors in that office.

Restricted-status students attend under the guidance of the assistant vice president of academic affairs.

Graduate Record Examinations And Graduate Management Admissions Tests

For the convenience of seniors who wish to qualify for admission to graduate school, the Registrar's Office disseminates information related to registration and testing for the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) and Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT).

Thomas E. Bellavance Honors Program

The Thomas E. Bellavance Honors Program offers highly motivated, able students challenging academic opportunities designed to foster their development as independent thinkers and learners. Students in the program take four Honors "core" courses and can choose from a number of Honors courses offered by a variety of academic departments. Most Honors courses count as General Education credit.

Honors courses are small, seminar-style classes where discussion, not lecture, is the preferred method of teaching and learning. Students are expected to take an active role in the pursuit of learning engendered in Honors classes.

All high-achieving, highly motivated students are encouraged to seek admission to the Bellavance Honors Program. Recognition of Honors achievement is noted on students' official academic transcripts.

Information is available from the Bellavance Honors Program director.

Academic Success Program

The Academic Success Program, part of Student Counseling Services, offers a range of services for students in need of academic assistance. Specifically, the program offers individual and group counseling for students who desire to improve their study skills and study habits. Group programs and workshops are offered throughout the academic year on such topics as note-taking, reading a textbook, test-taking, time management, procrastination and organization. In addition, the Academic Success Program serves as a clearinghouse for information regarding tutoring programs throughout the campus. Each semester, the program publishes a comprehensive list of all tutoring programs, including times, location and contact persons. Student Counseling Services is located in Guerrieri University Center Room 263 or it can be reached by phone at 410-543-6070.

Tutoring

Some departments offer tutors to provide extra help for students in lower-division courses. Advanced students work with individuals or small groups to increase understanding of course material. The times and places for these tutoring services are available from the appropriate department chair.

A listing of campus tutoring programs may be obtained from the offices of the Academic Success Program in Student Counseling Services, Guerrieri University Center Room 263.

General Studies

General Studies courses provide assistance to students in the areas of career planning and study techniques. The offerings are listed in the "Courses" section of this catalogue.

Thomas E. Bellavance Honors Program

The Thomas E. Bellavance Honors Program at Salisbury State University offers superior students the opportunity to study together in small discussion-oriented classes which encourage and enable them to become independent learners and active seekers of knowledge rather than merely passive recipients of another person's ideas.

The goal of the program is to provide Honors students with courses offering intellectual breadth as well as depth, and to cultivate in them a desire for the pleasure of active and independent thinking and learning.

Admission

High school students possessing a combined SAT score of 1250 and a grade point average of 3.25 automatically receive an invitation to apply for admission.

SSU students possessing a grade point average of 3.0 after taking 24 hours of college credits are eligible for admission to Honors courses and to the Bellavance Honors Program.

Transfer students who have been active in an Honors Program at the college from which they transfer will be admitted upon request to SSU's program. Those coming with no Honors background will be considered for admission after completing 24 hours of coursework at SSU with a minimum grade point average of 3.0.

For further information, contact Dr. Raymond Whall, (410) 546-6902.

Curriculum

The program offers a variety of courses to satisfy the needs and interests of all Honors students. All courses are available to all students admitted to the program. Some of them, as explained in the next section, are required for students intending to graduate with Honors.

Honors Core Curriculum Courses

There are four courses in the Honors core curriculum which, typically, students take during their first four semesters in the program:

IDIS 111-Honors Core Course I—Critical Thinking and Writing

Examines the processes for developing and supporting arguments with clear, unambiguous language and methods for evaluating the soundness of arguments.

IDIS 112-Honors Core Course II—The Western Intellectual Tradition I

The scrutiny of major intellectual texts which have shaped Western civilization, from classical Greece to the Renaissance.

IDIS 211-Honors Core Course III—The Western Intellectual Tradition II

A continuation of the examination of major texts of Western culture, from the 17th century to the present.

IDIS 212-Honors Core Course IV—Scientific Knowledge

Analysis of problems in science. Students study how scientific research leads to insights which foster scientific progress, and what methods scientists employ to judge the validity of their insights.

Honors Courses from Designated Departments

Each semester the Bellavance Honors Program's course brochure lists two or three courses offered by various departments—music, math, biology, etc.—which are designed to satisfy General Education requirements while providing students with Honors credit and the Honors experience of small discussion-centered classes with other highly motivated, intellectually curious students.

Honors Interdisciplinary Seminars

These courses, mostly at the 300- or junior-year level, address topics that transcend individual disciplinary boundaries and hence are most profitably examined from a number of different perspectives. Sometimes these courses are team-taught by two or more faculty from different departments; sometimes they are directed by a single faculty member who calls upon the expertise of several guest lecturers; very often they are directed by a single faculty member who selects texts from several disciplines to help students explore the topic from various disciplinary perspectives. These seminars are designed to be of interest to Honors students from a number of disciplines.

Honors Thesis and Honors Thesis Preparation

The Honors Thesis (IDIS 495) is a three-hour course of independent study which culminates in substantial work of original research and scholarship.

The Honors Thesis Preparation (IDIS 490) is a one-credit course of independent study designed to get the thesis project under way.

Honors Courses and General Education Requirements

The four Honors core courses can satisfy a maximum of 12 hours of the 45 required for General Education if all four courses are taken in sequence. Students and advisors should remember, however, that if students choose—after taking one, two, or even three Honors core courses—not to take all four, the core courses already taken become elective courses, and the General Education requirements the students assume they had satisfied with the core courses must now be satisfied by taking other General Education courses.

Students electing to study abroad in a University-approved program during their senior year may apply up to 30 semester hours of approved transfer credits toward the final 30-hour residency requirement for graduation. Students must complete a minimum of 30 semester hours at Salisbury State University. All other graduation requirements must be met. Forms titled "Request to Study at Another Institution" are available at the Registrar's Office and must be submitted with all required signatures during the semester prior to the semester the student studies abroad. For additional information, please contact the Study Abroad Coordinators.

Students who choose to participate in a study abroad program during the academic year may be able to use their need based financial aid or scholarship from the University, state or the federal government. Student should meet with a representative in the Financial Aid Office one or two semesters before planning to leave the campus to determine if they are eligible for financial aid and, if so, to get all the necessary forms in order.

Military Science

General Information

Assistant Professor
Maj. Anthony N. Wenger, M.Ed., M.A.; military/counter intelligence

Through a cross-enrollment agreement with the University of Delaware, Salisbury State offers four- and two-year programs leading to a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Army. The program, known as Army ROTC (Reserve Officer Training Corps), emphasizes leadership and management skills. Full and partial tuition scholarships are available for qualified individuals. Advanced course and scholarship recipients receive a stipend of $150 per month. Students enroll in military science courses at SSU and take them at the University of Delaware or a selected field site.

Four-Year Program

The four-year program consists of a two-year basic course and a two-year advanced course. The basic course, normally taken during the freshman and sophomore years, covers management principles, national defense, military history, leadership development, military courtesy, discipline and customs. The basic course imposes no military obligation on students and they may withdraw at any time prior to the beginning of the third year.

The advanced course provides further instruction in leadership development, organization and management, and tactics and administration. When students enter the advanced course they agree to finish ROTC instruction, to accept a commission and to accept an Army assignment—either active duty, National Guard or Army Reserve.

Students in the advanced course participate in the six-week ROTC Advanced Camp during the summer between the junior and senior years of college. This camp is a prerequisite for commissioning.

Two-Year Program

The two-year program permits junior community college transfers, students with prior military service, students who have not taken Army ROTC prior to the end of their sophomore year, or students going on to a two-year post-graduate course of study to take ROTC. Applicants for the two-year program without any prior military experience must complete six weeks of training during the summer before taking the advanced course. This summer leadership training is called ROTC Basic Camp.

Course Requirements

Since ROTC is not a major, all courses apply as elective credit toward graduation.

		Credits
MISC 105	Organizational Leadership I	1
MISC 106	Organizational Leadership II	1
MISC 205	Military Skills I	2

Graduation Requirements

Student Responsibility For Satisfying Graduation Requirements

The faculty and administration have established the following policies and procedures for the guidence and evaluation of student performance and to help ensure the quality of education provided by the University.

To graduate from Salisbury State University students must be matriculated and complete approved degree programs. To be matriculated, students must be accepted for admission as degree candidates and enroll in courses.

Matriculated students are responsible for planning their programs to meet University and departmental graduation requirements. As students plan their programs they need to recognize that the catalogue is an information guide and not a contract. The University has the authority to change degree requirements, prerequisites, course schedules, grading systems, fees and related matters. Wherever possible, however, the University implements changes in ways that do not create hardships for students who are already enrolled.

Catalogue Selection

A matriculated student can usually meet University and departmental graduation requirements stated in any University catalogue that meets the following conditions:

1. The catalogue was issued within the seven years preceding the student's graduation.
2. The catalogue was in effect during a semester when the student was either matriculated at Salisbury State University or at a Maryland community college.
3. The catalogue meets all requirements of relevant external agencies.
4. The catalogue does not require the University to adhere to policies or provide services, curriculum or facilities no longer in effect or necessary.

Matriculated students must satisfy all graduation requirements in the catalogue they select.

Application for Diploma/ Graduation

Students must apply for graduation by submitting an Application for Diploma form to the Registrar's Office at least one semester prior to their intended date of completion. The academic records of degree candidates who apply for graduation on time are audited for graduation requirements, and the candidates are notified of any deficiencies, giving them an opportunity to satisfy any remaining, unfulfilled requirements during their last semester of enrollment. The Registrar's Office reserves the right to move students' intended date of completion or to cancel their Application for Diploma if it appears that they will not or do not meet their degree requirements. Degree candidates have the responsibility of keeping the Registrar's Office apprised of any changes in their graduation plans.

Graduation Requirements

To be eligible to graduate, students must meet the following requirements:

1. Be matriculated in the University.
2. Successfully complete at least 120 credit hours of coursework with a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher. Students must take 30 of the last 37 credit hours at Salisbury State University (special cooperative programs excepted).
3. Complete at least 30 credit hours at the University by direct classroom instruction and/or laboratory experience and not through credit by examination.
4. Complete at least 30 credit hours at the 300/400 level with grades of C or better. Transfer students must complete at least 15 hours of their 30 upper-level credits at Salisbury State University (note: other than field-based courses in the Department of Education, courses taken on a PS/F basis do not satisfy this requirement).
5. Satisfy the General Education requirements.
6. Satisfy the requirements in at least one major program of study including the major's required grade point average.
7. Earn grades of C or better in English 101 and English 102.
8. Submit an Application for Graduation form to the registrar by the appropriate date.
9. Make arrangements for the repayment of any outstanding debt.
10. Return all materials borrowed from the library or academic departments.

Minor Programs

Unless required for the completion of a specific major program, minor programs are an optional component of the graduation requirements. Students may complete and graduate with more than one minor. Minor programs must be completed at the time of graduation and appear as a part of the student's degree when satisfactory completion is certified by the Registrar's Office.

Double Majors

Students may simultaneously satisfy the requirements for more than one major program. All major programs appear as a part of the student's degree when satisfactory completion is certified by the Registrar's Office. Students completing more than one major receive one baccalaureate degree from Salisbury State University unless all requirements for the second degree program taken simultaneously have been satisfied.

Second Bachelor's Degree Programs

Taken Sequentially

Individuals who hold a baccalaureate degree from Salisbury State University or another regionally accredited institution may earn a second undergraduate degree in a different major at the University. Second degree students must complete a minimum of 30 new semester hours of coursework with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0 and satisfy all requirements for the major. In addition, 15 of the 30 new hours must be in coursework from the major department that could be used to satisfy program requirements.

Second bachelor's degree candidates will be eligible to graduate with honors only if they satisfy all graduation with honors requirements using credit earned after the completion of their prior degree.

Taken Simultaneously

Individuals who wish to receive two baccalaureate degrees from Salisbury State University simultaneously, must complete a minimum of 150 semester hours of coursework, and must fulfill the regularly prescribed requirements for both degree programs. Students should formally declare all major programs as early in their academic career as possible and are encouraged to seek advisement from each department to ensure completion of all requirements in each degree. The student's desire to receive two degrees must be noted on the Application for Diploma form when applying for graduation.

SSU/UMES Second Degree Program (SSU Version)

In addition to the credit exchange program with the University of Maryland Eastern Shore, Salisbury State University and UMES allow students to complete baccalaureate programs at both institutions simultaneously. The student must satisfy baccalaureate degree requirements at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore for a program of study which is not available at Salisbury State and must also satisfy all requirements in a major offered at SSU. In addition, the following particular requirements apply to this program:

1. The 90 (or more) credit hours of work at Salisbury State must be completed with an SSU grade point average of 2.0 or better; at least 30 of these credits must be taken on the SSU campus (cooperative program credits, examination credits, etc., may not be so counted), and of these, at least 15 hours must be completed at SSU at the 300 or 400 level with grades of C or better.
2. The Salisbury State catalogue, which contains the program requirements the student is satisfying at SSU, may not predate by more than seven years the time of the student's graduation; and the student must have been in attendance at SSU as a matriculated student during a semester in which the catalogue was in effect.
3. The student must satisfy all graduation requirements as stated in an approved SSU catalogue, except those requiring matriculation at the University at the time of graduation and completion of the last 30 hours of work at the University.
4. In order to graduate from Salisbury State with honors, the requirements stated in the catalogue which the student has chosen will be in effect. Only SSU credits are used in computing the SSU grade point average.
5. The student's grade point averages at SSU and at UMES must be 2.0 or better.

Students who participate in the cooperative dual-degree program must register this fact with the departments of their SSU majors. The granting of the baccalaureate degree from Salisbury State University and the granting of the baccalaureate degree from the University of Maryland Eastern Shore will occur when requirements in both degree programs have been satisfied.

University Writing Proficiency Requirement

Students satisfying graduation requirements must earn grades of C or better in English 101 and English 102.

The faculty believes that the ability to express ideas in a logical, organized and convincing manner is an integral part of a liberal arts education. Students are expected to maintain and continually demonstrate this ability in written assignments. If a faculty member believes a student needs to improve in writing ability, the student may be referred to the Learning Center for diagnostic testing and a planned course of study.

Students who are referred by faculty to the Learning Center must be working on the writing skills programs designed for them in order to enroll in classes for the subsequent semester. Students working on writing skills programs may not graduate until these programs are completed.

Pre-professional Programs

Pre-law Preparation

Pre-law Advisor
Erin M. Fitzsimmons, Esq., Political Science Department

In recent years, SSU graduates have been admitted to law schools at the University of Baltimore, Cornell University, University of Maryland, Catholic University, Villanova University, Washington and Lee University, and Widener University.

Successful applicants to law schools must be able to read and comprehend, to think precisely, to analyze complex fact situations, and to speak and write clearly and intelligently. Although these skills can be developed in a number of disciplines, liberal arts majors such as communication arts, English, history, philosophy and political science are good choices. Generally, students preparing to study law should concentrate on courses they find intellectually stimulating and help them to comprehend the complex issues associated with human institutions and values.

Regardless of major, pre-law students should take some of the following courses:

		Credits
BUAD 248	Legal Environment	3
BUAD 348	Business Law	3
CMAT 316	Argumentation and Debate	3
ENGL 353	Writing for the Disciplines	3
ENGL 419	Shakespeare (or other upper-level literature course)	3
HIST 388	Civil Rights in American History	3
PHIL 103	Critical Thinking	3
PHIL 202	Introduction to Symbolic Logic	3
PHIL 203	Ethics	3
POSC 230	Judicial Process and Politics	3
POSC 411	International Law	3
POSC 450	Civil Rights and Liberties	3
POSC 460	Environmental Law	3

Detailed information on law schools, applying for admission to law school, and the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) is available from the pre-law advisor in the Department of Political Science.

In addition, Salisbury State University cooperates closely with the University of Baltimore School of Law and the University of Maryland School of Law to provide counseling to students seeking admission to those institutions. Admissions representatives from both law schools make frequent trips to the Salisbury State campus to meet with interested students. These law schools also provide opportunities for SSU students to attend on-site orientation programs and class visits at their Baltimore campuses, sponsor informational sessions for minority applicants, and provide individualized assistance to students seeking information on academic programs, admission standards and procedures, housing and financial aid.

Health Professions Education Program Preparation

Pre-health Advising Coordinator
Marylane McGlinchey, Advising Coordinator, Henson School of Science and Technology

Salisbury State University students frequently prepare for undergraduate or graduate professional school programs in medicine, veterinary medicine, dentistry, optometry, pharmacy, physical therapy, podiatry, physician assistant, clinical laboratory science, nursing and respiratory therapy. Some of the post-graduate professional schools attended by SSU graduates have included University of Maryland School of Medicine, Dartmouth University School of Medicine, Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine, University of Maryland School of Physical Therapy, Thomas Jefferson University School of Physical Therapy, University of Maryland School of Dentistry, University of Pennsylvania School of Dentistry, Virginia-Maryland Regional School of Veterinary Medicine, Ross University School of Veterinary Medicine, George Washington University Physician Assistant Program, Philadelphia College of Optometry and the University of Pennsylvania Nurse Practitioner Program.

At the University, undergraduate health professions degree programs are available in clinical laboratory science, nursing and respiratory therapy. (Curriculum guides are available in the department offices.) Students may prepare for all other health profession education programs by incorporating the required prerequisites into their "major" curriculum requirements. Specific health profession preparation curriculum guides are available for biology, chemistry (biochemistry track) and clinical laboratory science majors. However, students may prepare for all health profession education programs by majoring in any discipline. Because course selection is so important, students must consult their pre-health faculty advisor early for assistance in program planning.

For medicine and dentistry the following SSU courses constitute the minimum prerequisites required by most schools: BIOL 121 and 122; CHEM 121, 122, 221 and 222; and PHYS 121 and 123.

For veterinary medicine the following SSU courses constitute the minimum prerequisites required by most schools: BIOL 121 and 122; CHEM 121, 122, 221, 222 and 417; math courses as dictated by individual schools; and PHYS 121 and 123.

For optometry the following SSU courses constitute the minimum prerequisites required by most schools: BIOL 121, 122 and 211; CHEM 121, 122, 221 and 222; MATH 155 and 160 or 201; and PHYS 121 and 123.

For physician assistant the following SSU courses constitute the minimum prerequisites required by most schools: BIOL 215, 216 and 211; CHEM 121, 122, 221 and 222; MATH 155; PHYS 121: and PSYC 101 and 300.

For physical therapy, the following SSU courses constitute the minimum prerequisite required by most schools: BIOL 121, 122, 215 and 216; CHEM 121 and 122; PHYS 121 and 123; and PSYC 101 and 300. (Some physical therapy programs may have different requirements. Students must find out what the prerequisites are for each school they plan to attend.)

Students will be assigned a faculty advisor who is a member of the University Health Professions Advisory Committee. Questions about professional study in the health professions should be directed to the student's pre-health advisor or the Henson School pre-health advising coordinator. Students choosing to major in clinical laboratory science, nursing or respiratory therapy will be assigned a faculty advisor within their respective department.

Accelerated Admission to Health Professions Education Programs

Accelerated admission to health professions education programs are available through cooperative agreements between Salisbury State and regional graduate health professions education programs.

During the junior year at the University, students may apply for admission to specific accelerated health professions programs. Successful candidates receive the baccalaureate degree from Salisbury State following the first year of study at the professional school. Accelerated programs allow students to obtain the professional degree in seven rather than eight years.

Admission to an accelerated degree program is competitive and admission to Salisbury State University does not guarantee acceptance into a graduate health professions program. A minimum of two years at SSU is required for participation in the undergraduate portion of the accelerated program. (Curriculum guides for the accelerated biology and chemistry majors are available in the department offices.)

Dentistry	University of Maryland Baltimore
Optometry	Pennsylvania College of Optometry

School Information

The Franklin P. Perdue School of Business was established in 1986 through a multimillion dollar fund created by Franklin P. Perdue to ensure excellence within the academic programs of the school. Perdue, a lifelong resident of Salisbury, began working with his parents in their egg business at the age of 10. He attended what was then the State Teachers College in Salisbury for two years before returning to work full time with his father in 1939. He became a full partner in the business in 1944 and, in 1950, took over leadership of Perdue Farms Inc. Under his leadership, the firm grew to be one of the largest integrated poultry producers in the United States.

The Perdue School is the largest college-level center for business education and development in the region. It provides an academic program which responds to the highest standards of business education and provides for student interaction with the business world. Courses are designed to encourage students to think clearly, show sound judgment, communicate verbally and in writing, develop interpersonal skills and make rational decisions under conditions of uncertainty.

The Perdue School offers four degrees: Bachelors of Science in accounting, business administration and management information systems, and the Bachelor of Arts in economics. The accounting, business administration and management information systems programs have lower (pre-professional) and upper (professional) divisions and require successful completion of lower-division work before admission to each major and before taking upper-division courses. Within the business administration major, students may specialize in economics, finance, marketing, management or international business, or may design with advisors an individualized curriculum. The economics major requires a program of General Education courses integrated with a core in economics, business administration and mathematics.

The Perdue School offers three minors: business administration, marketing management and economics. The business administration and marketing management minors are not open to business, management information systems or accounting majors. Similarly, the economics track within the business administration major and the economics minor are not open to economics majors.

(See the Salisbury State University Graduate Catalogue for details of the school's Master of Business Administration program.)

A unique feature of the Perdue School of Business is the Applied Business Learning Experience (ABLE) program, successful completion of which is a graduation requirement for all students majoring in accounting, business or management information systems. Students must demonstrate that they can translate and effectively use classroom learnings in business, government and nonprofit organizations. ABLE provides a variety of experiential learning options: a work-study cooperative program, full and partial immersion internships, community projects and student consulting. For details see the director of the ABLE program.

Philosophic Commitments and Objectives

Consistent with the University mission and the convictions of its faculty, the Franklin P. Perdue School of Business objectives reflect a dedication to students' maximum intellectual growth, active involvement in applied and practical research, and a commitment to community service.

Intellectual Growth

The primary objective of the school is to provide each of its students with an academic environment that fosters the development of a broad intellectual foundation. This foundation is the basis for effective service in professional positions and enables students to assume higher levels of responsibility as they gain experience and demonstrate ability. The faculty believe this objective is met by the development and maintenance of quality curricula, by effective teaching and by conscientious student advising.

Research

The school is committed to stimulating the intellectual growth of its faculty and the broader academic and business community. The faculty actively pursue applied and practical research that expands their knowledge of business and economic activities as well as more theoretical research.

Community Service

The school serves the interests of the broad community through management development programs, consulting activities, publication of studies vital to the economic growth of the area and professional participation in volunteer organizations. These activities are conducted by the school's Project Management Group (which includes the Mid-Atlantic Sales and Marketing Institute, the European American Business Institute, the Eastern Shore Export Assistance Center, the Regional Public Transportation Program and the Electronic Business and Commerce Program) and the Business Resource Center (which includes the Small Business Development Center and the Perdue Center for Professional Development).

General Information

Non-Degree Seeking Students

The Perdue School serves non-degree-seeking students by allowing them to enroll directly in both lower- and upper-division courses. Students who do not meet specific course prerequisites must obtain approval from the associate dean of the Perdue School of Business before enrolling.

Students Seeking Degrees in Programs Other Than Accounting, Business Administration Or Management Information Systems

The Perdue School welcomes students from other disciplines in lower-division classes and can accommodate a limited number of these students in upper-division (300/400-level) courses as the school's professional-program students are given priority. Because the Perdue School cannot guarantee that non-majors will be able to enroll in ACCT/BUAD/ECON/ISMN courses during any specific semester, students from other disciplines with programs that require upper-division Perdue School courses should plan ahead as far as possible and secure the permission of their advisors and the director of academic programs of the Perdue School of Business for the ACCT/BUAD/ECON/ISMN portion of their programs.

Maximum Credit Hours Applicable To Graduation

The maximum number of credit hours in accounting, business administration and management information systems that students majoring in these areas can apply toward graduation is 50 percent of total earned hours (e.g. 60 of 120 hours). To ensure that business majors receive a balanced education, at least 50 percent of total earned hours (e.g. 60 of 120 hours) must be taken outside accounting, business administration and management information systems.

Transfer Credits

Students who wish to enroll in courses at other institutions and transfer credits to satisfy Perdue School requirements must first submit a properly completed Request to Study at Another Institution form to the Perdue School's director of academic services. Approval forms will then be submitted to a University transfer counselor for additional authorization and processing. (Students are further directed to the University's transfer guidelines located in the "Registration and Student Records" section of this catalogue.)

Repeating Courses

Courses repeated to fulfill a Perdue School major or minor requirement must be repeated at Salisbury State University. For example, students who repeat required courses to improve D or F grades must take those courses at Salisbury State University.

The Pre-professional Program: Freshmen And Sophomores Seeking a Major In Accounting, Business Administration Or Management Information Systems

Perdue School courses of study in accounting, business administration and management information systems consist of a pre-professional program for freshmen and sophomores and a professional program for juniors and seniors. The business administration curriculum consists of a lower-division (pre-professional) core, upper-division (professional) core, special requirements and business administration concentration/track requirements. Pre-professional business administration majors acquire a common body of knowledge essential to successful completion of the professional program coursework.

		Credits
BUAD 490	Business Internship	3

and must involve the student in working with an organization in a planned, progressive-development program for a minimum of 120 hours over a 10-week period.

Experiential projects provide students with applied business learning experiences and are associated with the following courses:

		Credits
BUAD 428 and BUAD 429	Entrepreneurship and Small Business Consulting	3
BUAD 438	Marketing Research	3
BUAD 443	Essentials of Real Estate	3

For additional information concerning ABLE program requirements, students should see the program director in the Perdue School of Business.

4. Fulfill the requirements of one of the following concentrations/tracks in business administration with no more than one D grade in the required professional business administration program courses. Additionally, a minimum C grade average must be maintained for all required courses in business administration. Specialization courses should be taken at Salisbury State University. With the approval of the appropriate department chair, up to six hours may be transferred from AACSB-member schools.
5. Students who decide to pursue a second major/concentration/track must complete a minimum of 12 hours of new credits for each additional major/concentration/track.

Finance Concentration

Students in the finance concentration prepare for careers in large and small organizations and in financial institutions such as commercial banks, savings and loan associations, real estate and stock brokerage firms. While larger organizations often have immediate financial-management openings in their financial/planning divisions, small organizations often combine finance and accounting functions. Therefore, students who take the finance concentration may want to take additional courses in accounting. Finance students are strongly encouraged to take ECON 306: Intermediate Micro-Theory in their junior year even though this course is not a concentration requirement.

The following courses are required for the finance concentration.

		Credits
BUAD 440	Corporate Finance	3
BUAD 441	Investments I	3
BUAD 445	Financial Institutions and Markets	3
BUAD 447	International Financial Management	3

In addition, at least two courses must be chosen from the following list:

		Credits
ACCT 302	Cost Accounting I	3
or
ACCT 304	Intermediate Accounting I	3
BUAD 312	Risk Management and Insurance	3

BUAD 442	Investments II	3
BUAD 443	Essentials of Real Estate	3
ECON 305	Intermediate Macro-Theory	3

Management Concentration

The management concentration offers a general approach to the management of employees, finances, raw materials and information. Managers must be able to motivate and guide individuals in the appropriate direction for the good of the firm. Management also may involve setting goals, planning and overseeing the entire work effort of the employees.

The following courses are required for the management concentration:

		Credits
BUAD 422	Management of the Multinational Business	3
BUAD 425	Applied Organizational Science	3
BUAD 428	Entrepreneurship	3
or
BUAD 450	Human Resource Management	3

In addition, at least three courses must be chosen from the following list:

		Credits
ACCT 302	Cost Accounting I	3
BUAD 345	Purchasing and Materials Management	3
BUAD 429	Small Business Consulting	3
BUAD 451	Staffing Organizations	3
BUAD 452	Employee-Management Relations	3
BUAD 460	Managerial Decision Support Systems	3
or
ISMN 395	Advanced Management Support Systems	3
BUAD 384	International Business	3
or
BUAD 386	Business in its Global Setting	3

(Students taking both BUAD 428 and 450 may count the second as a management concentration elective.)

Marketing Management Concentration

Marketing employment opportunities are found in virtually all organizations: producer and manufacturing firms, distribution enterprises such as wholesalers and retailers, service suppliers and research agencies. Increasingly, positions are available in government agencies, hospitals, charitable and religious groups, and educational institutions. Marketing personnel are typically classified as sales management or marketing staff who work in advertising, sales promotion, product planning, marketing research, purchasing, transportation and public relations.

The following courses are required for the marketing concentration:

		Credits
BUAD 430	Marketing Management Strategy	3
BUAD 438	Marketing Research	3

In addition, at least four courses must be selected from the following list:

		Credits

BUAD 333	Sales Management I	3
BUAD 334	Principles of Retailing	3
BUAD 345	Purchasing and Materials Management	3
BUAD 384	International Business	3
BUAD 386	Business in its Global Setting	3
BUAD 401	Business Marketing	3
BUAD 423	International Marketing	3
BUAD 433	Sales Management II	3
BUAD 439	Senior Marketing Seminar	3

Economics Track

A specialization in economics prepares business administration majors to apply the scientific approach to cause and effect relationships affecting the performance of the business enterprise and its impact on society's living standards.

Coursework focuses on understanding and measuring the consequences of public policies and regulations; the behavior of consumers, competitors and other important groups; and the firm's own decisions. The emphasis on analytical skills and empirical methodology provides a strong foundation for students interested in graduate study in business and for those with career interests in economic research or forecasting in either business or government.

The following courses are required for the economics track:

		Credits
ECON 305	Intermediate Macro-Theory	3
ECON 306	Intermediate Micro-Theory	3
ECON 441	International Economics	3

In addition, at least three courses must be chosen from the following list:

ECON 410	The Economics of Health Care	3
ECON 411	Economic Development	3
ECON 415	Environmental Economics	3
ECON 430	Econometrics	3
ECON 441	International Economics	3
ECON 460	Applied Economics Workshop	3

International Track

As a growing number of large and small U.S. firms transact a portion of their business through international channels, business administration graduates are becoming increasingly involved with international aspects of business. This track allows students to gain the knowledge and skills required for international business careers, while developing their understanding of the mechanisms and institutions of international business.

Since the Perdue School's curriculum allows multiple majors, concentrations and tracks, students may combine such areas as accounting, finance, marketing, management and information systems management with international business, giving themselves an international business education.

The following are required for the international track:

		Credits

Economics is the study of the factors determining our material living standards. It involves analysis of human values and behavior, the operations of public and private institutions, the limitations of technology and natural resources, and the legal-political framework within which all are required to operate.

The Department of Economics and Finance's Bachelor of Arts program combines a solid foundation in contemporary economic theory with the opportunity to analyze a wide range of issues important to the material well-being of society. The emphasis on applying carefully reasoned analysis to questions of personal choice and public policy makes this program a valuable preparation for careers in education, law, research or administration, as well as employment in business, government or international agencies.

The Department of Information and Decision Sciences offers a Bachelor of Science in management information systems addressing information analysis, business systems design and information systems management. The program emphasizes business and organizational studies as well as information systems technology. Coursework includes business fundamentals such as accounting, finance, marketing, management and production; information systems design; and development methods, database structures, database management systems, computer programming and data communications. Students study in depth business systems analysis and design and other technical and business areas related to developing, maintaining and using information in a variety of organizational settings. They learn how to apply computers, software and systems techniques to solve information systems problems within organizations.

Students gain a thorough understanding of the life cycle development process of management information systems. They learn skills for analysis, design and implementation of information systems that will provide managers with the information they need for operational and strategic planning and control. Students also become familiar with modern computer technology and how appropriate hardware and software are integrated in analyzing business problems. The program balances information systems theory and application and prepares students for careers in private-sector and public-sector positions such as computer systems analysts, information resource managers and MIS analysts.

The management information systems curriculum consists of a lower-division (pre-professional) core, upper-division (professional) core, special requirements and management information systems major requirements. Pre-professional management information systems majors acquire a common body of knowledge essential to the successful completion of the professional program coursework.

School Information

Programs in the Seidel School of Education and Professional Studies date from the University's beginnings as a school for the professional preparation of teachers. The missions of the school's departments and centers are derived from the University Mission, which commits the institution to providing students with a foundational integrated curriculum in the humanities, social and natural sciences, and mathematics; and to preparing them to work confidently and effectively in their chosen careers. The primary objectives of the school, therefore, are to provide initial and continuing education that ensures professionally competent teachers, health fitness providers, athletic trainers, social workers and school administrators who will become cooperative, innovative leaders dedicated to community service and excellence.

The Seidel School of Education and Professional Studies was endowed by Samuel and Marilyn Seidel in March 1997. A longtime Salisbury businessman and civic leader, Sam Seidel started his career as a teacher and went on to establish the largest privately owned insurance operation in Maryland. Lyn Seidel, class of '54, worked locally in nursing. The Seidels' three children are also graduates of Salisbury State University. In addition to the school endowment, the Seidels have provided seven scholarships for SSU students, five of which are earmarked for education majors.

All the school's programs interface with the community in special and unique ways and rely on community institutions, agencies and settings for the field components. Whether in teacher education, health fitness, social work or other veins, the integration of theory and practice takes place in field sites generously provided by the University's surrounding community.

The teacher education, physical education, social work and military science programs are cooperative with the University of Maryland Eastern Shore. The institutions' dual degree program in sociology/social work has been in operation for over five years, and a cooperative Master of Arts in Teaching was implemented in summer 1996.

Scholarships and awards available in the school include the following:

Christopher Scholars in Education
Johnson Scholarship in Education

Social work is a dynamic-growth profession based upon knowledge drawn from its own experience and from the social sciences. It has a code of ethics, practice standards and a nationwide system of accredited education programs.

Social workers are people who care about the needs of others, including those who are not always successful or cooperative. Members of this profession have the knowledge, skills and values to work with a wide range of people and problems. Help for an individual or a family can be as simple as an interview and as complex as promoting change in a large bureaucracy. Social workers are found in such diverse fields as mental health, child welfare, health care, public welfare, family services, developmental disabilities, services to older people, justice and substance abuse.

The Department of Social Work, accredited since 1974 by the Council on Social Work Education, prepares graduates for entry-level generalist social work practice and advanced graduate education. The department helps students develop their intellectual capacities and practice skill so that they become effective professionals and responsible citizens, and recognizes its responsibility to teach and encourage ethical behavior. Graduates of the program are awarded a Bachelor of Arts in Social Work.

SSU/UMES Dual-Degree Program: Social Work/Sociology

Salisbury State University and the University of Maryland Eastern Shore have established a dual-degree program through which UMES students can earn a Bachelor of Arts in Social Work (B.A.S.W.) from SSU and a Bachelor of Science in sociology from UMES. The program, which can be completed in 129 hours, is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education through SSU.

The program prepares graduates for entry-level professional social work positions, state licensure and graduate education. The program is made possible through the cooperative efforts of the institutions in sharing resources to expand the opportunities for students on both campuses.

School Information

The Fulton School of Liberal Arts, endowed and named in 1989 by Charles R. and Martha N. Fulton of Snow Hill, MD, offers disciplinary programs leading to careers within and built upon the fine arts, humanities and social sciences. The Fultons intended their gift to enhance the economic, educational and cultural resources of the Eastern Shore and its future generations.

Charles Fulton, who grew up on a farm in Kenton, OH, was working in the poultry industry when he met his future wife, Martha Nock, at the 1939 World Poultry Congress in Cleveland. A veteran of World War II, Charles Fulton was for more than half a century involved in Eastern Shore agriculture. In 1965 three of his companies merged with Holly Farms; in 1989 Holly Farms was purchased by Tyson Foods. Charles Fulton served on the board of directors of Holly Farms and First Maryland Bancorp, the second largest bank in Maryland.

Martha Nock attended what was then the State Teachers College in Salisbury in 1937-38, and was a classmate of Franklin P. Perdue. The Nock family was noted for its philanthropic role in the religious and civic life of the community.

In 1992 the Fultons built the Snow Hill (MD) Christian Nursery School; in 1998, with Richard Henson, they gave $1.4 million to build the YMCA in Pocomoke, MD. In 1998 Charles Fulton received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters from Salisbury State University.

Committed to interactive learning and to maximizing one-on-one encounters between students and their faculty mentors, the Fulton School emphasizes the diversity and unity of cultures, civic responsibility and lifelong learning. Because each department within the Fulton School embodies a liberal art and its own professions, the Fulton School is the central provider of Salisbury State University's liberal education offerings. Fulton School courses and programs are central to the mission of Salisbury State University in fostering students' abilities as follows:

1. Enhancing their intellectual capacities.
2. Developing critical thinking in order to draw valid conclusions from observation and research and apply logic to solve problems creatively.
3. Developing effective and coherent speaking and writing.
4. Examining and analyzing their own and other cultures in order to participate as informed citizens in an increasingly complex world.
5. Emphasizing undergraduate research, internships and other partnership and practicum experiences.
6 Integrating learning experiences to develop coherent judgment and interconnected knowledge.

Fulton School faculty endeavors include Literature/Film Quarterly, an international academic journal; the Research Center for Delmarva History and Culture, specializing in local and regional history, archaeology and folklore; an annual conference on American Women of Color; the Maryland Summer Center for the Arts for talented and gifted middle and high school students; and the Imaging and Remote Sensing Center, which provides computer-assisted mapmaking for local, state and federal planning agencies. The University galleries in Fulton Hall and the Guerrieri University Center and the Salisbury Symphony Orchestra at Salisbury State University are also affiliated with the Fulton School.

In addition to discipline-based programs of study, the Fulton School provides interdisciplinary programming through a range of innovative curricula demonstrating how intellectual curiosity crosses boundaries between disciplines and unique programs that enable students to adapt the rich heritage of liberal arts to current and individual needs. Interdepartmental programs and minors such as American studies, environmental studies, international studies, religious studies, gerontology, comparative literature, fine arts administration, conflict resolution/peace studies and women's studies/gender studies give students opportunities to consider issues from an interdisciplinary perspective.

Career-related tracks, such as journalism and graphic design, as well as supervised community-service internships with museums, government agencies and other organizations, enable students to apply a liberal education in actual practice. Students who do not find an existing course of study that meets their interests and needs may, with the help of faculty, design individualized liberal studies programs. Most departments offer opportunities for international study. The Fulton School sponsors programs in Ecuador, France, Germany, Romania and Thailand and is affiliated with the American Institute for Foreign Study, which offers study abroad programs at universities in Australia, Austria, England, France, Germany, Japan, Mexico, Russia and Spain.

In addition to participating in the National Conference on Undergraduate Research, the Fulton School hosts an annual undergraduate research day to showcase the broad range of student learning, original research and artistic development.

The Department of Art offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Fine Arts in art. Students enjoy wide-ranging instruction in fine arts, advertising design and art history, receiving the technical skill, critical perspective and historical background to pursue careers in art and arts-related fields as well as graduate study in art.

Art majors are able to pursue independent study, participate in internships in graphic design and arts administration, and study abroad, either through winter term courses regularly offered by the Art Department or through programs affiliated with the American Institute for Foreign Study. In addition, art students may study at the art institutes of Atlanta, Dallas, Denver, Ft. Lauderdale, Houston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Seattle through a cooperative program between Salisbury State University and the Art Institutes International. Students interested in art education or interior design may take courses through collaborative efforts with the University of Maryland Eastern Shore.

The art curriculum is enhanced by various exhibitions and related programs sponsored by the Salisbury State University Galleries, and a show featuring works by graduating artists is held each spring. Students may also show their work in Fulton Hall 129, used for a variety of special events including workshops and lecture-demonstrations. The department has an "open studio" policy, allowing students access to specially equipped facilities even when class is not in session to complete assignments and pursue independent work.

The Department of History offers a program leading to the Bachelor of Arts in history. The department's objective is to develop a habit of inquiry enhancing students' abilities to think critically and analytically, speak effectively and write coherently.

The history major examines times and cultures other than our own while fostering a sense of the interconnectedness of our world. Furthermore, it offers a perspective of the issues of our lives and times and their significance in a personal, ethical, global and multicultural framework. Finally, the discipline provides a foundation upon which we can build and strengthen those qualities which make us human.

The history curriculum is excellent preparation for careers that cross disciplinary lines and graduate programs such as history, law, library science, museology and international affairs. History graduates may teach as well as work in local, state and federal government, tourism, publications, advertising, insurance, consulting and numerous areas of business.

The History Department further administers the anthropology track in liberal studies. See page 96 for details.

The History Department also offers a master's degree in history, with a concentration in Chesapeake and local colonial history.

Interdisciplinary Studies

In the liberal arts tradition and to facilitate the integration of curriculum, the University offers courses in interdisciplinary studies. These courses, described in the "Courses" section of this catalogue under "Interdisciplinary Studies," are taught by a variety of departments and may be used, upon approval of advisors, within many of the programs of the University.

Liberal Studies

Coordinator
Cecilia Acocella, Ph.D., Fulton School advising/liberal studies coordinator

The Department of Liberal Studies offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. The major accommodates students who wish to develop programs of study in two or more disciplines or create a major in an area of study not offered by any traditional major at SSU. This program allows students to create an individual and flexible major that is best suited to their interests or career goals. Most importantly, this program gives students the opportunity to integrate information across disciplines to help gain a more complete understanding of the chosen area of study.

Major in Liberal Studies

Students must complete a minimum of 30 semester hours in 300/400-level courses from an approved program with grades of C or better; a minimum of 15 hours of upper-division work with C or better grades must be completed at Salisbury State University. No more than 18 semester hours of upper-division courses completed prior to program approval may be credited toward the major.

Students who wish to major in both a traditional major and liberal studies may not use courses to satisfy graduation requirements in both majors without permission of the coordinator of the liberal studies program.

To guarantee that coursework satisfies the requirements of the liberal studies program, students must follow the procedure for program approval outlined under General Information.

Anthropology Track

Students majoring in liberal studies may choose a program in anthropology, administered by the History Department, offering subdisciplines in prehistory/archaeology, cultural anthropology, linguistic anthropology and physical anthropology. Anthropology examines empirical evidence for human evolution; the diversity of cultures, especially in small-scale societies; the relationship between language and culture; and the accumulated archaeological record of prehistoric and early historic societies. Career opportunities include artifact restoration or cataloguing, commercial archaeology, historical archaeology, salvage archaeology or underwater archaeology.

Students interested in the liberal studies anthropology track should consult with the coordinator of anthropology. Requirements for the track include the following:

1. Complete a minimum of 39 semester hours with at least 30 hours in approved 300/400-level courses with grades of C or better.
2. Complete the following core courses:

		Credits
ANTH 212	Cultural Anthropology	3

Additional courses may be drawn from anthropology and collateral areas including the following:

		Credits
ANTH 300	*Studies in Anthropology	3
ANTH 400	Individual Directed Study	3
HIST 300	Historic Archaeology of Maryland's Eastern Shore	3
HIST 319	Roman History	3
HIST 370	Greek History	3

General Information

Students wishing to major in liberal studies should contact the coordinator of the Department of Liberal Studies, who will coordinate the development of the student's proposed program of study. The student will also meet with designated representatives of their chosen areas of study to discuss and develop a selection of courses that best fits the goals of the student. The student must follow these guidelines in order to be admitted into the program:

1. Students must choose two or three subject areas in which to complete the required 30 upper-division semester hours. These subject areas may include traditional disciplines at the University, interdisciplinary minors (such as environmental studies or ethnic and intercultural studies) or pre-approved tracks within the liberal studies major. Students who include an interdisciplinary minor as one of their chosen areas must complete all minor requirements in order to fulfill the major requirements. An example of a program would be combining courses from biology and psychology for a student interested in neuroscience.

2. Students must provide in the program proposal rationale for the cohesion of those areas of study and describe any potential career goals where those courses will be helpful.

3. Program proposals should list any lower-division prerequisites to the courses chosen for the liberal studies major.

4.Upper-division courses (300/400 level) completed prior to receiving program approval may or may not be used for the liberal studies major, and no more than 18 such hours may be credited toward the major.

5. Program proposals must be approved by designated representatives from the chosen subject areas before final approval is given by the coordinator of the liberal studies program.

6. Any deviation from programs must be approved in writing by both the representative of the subject area and the coordinator of the liberal studies program.

Modern Languages And Intercultural Studies

Chair
Professor Keith H. Brower, Ph.D.; Spanish and Latin American literature
Professor
Gerald R. St. Martin, Ph.D.; 19th century French literature
Associate Professor
Arlene F. White, Ed.D.; French culture and civilization
Assistant Professor
Brian N. Stiegler, Ph.D.; Latin American literature
Lecturer
Klaudia Thompson, M.A.; German language and culture

The Department of Modern Languages and Intercultural Studies offers the Bachelor of Arts in French and Spanish as well as minors in French, Spanish and German. Course offerings also include Russian, Latin (through intercultural studies) and various intercultural/literature in translation topics. The department's mission is to foster students' abilities to think critically and to communicate intelligently and creatively in their native as well as in a foreign language. It promotes the study of language and culture to provide a sense of perspective and a better understanding of the world at large today.

Many foreign language majors prepare for a career in education, but the ability to speak in a second language is beneficial in any career emphasizing the global nature of our world, such as international business, media, journalism, government, social work, tourism and others. The major also prepares students for graduate work in literature, area and international studies.

Major in French

A major in French consists of 36 credit hours distributed as follows:

1. Complete at least 27 credit hours in the language above the elementary level, including at least six credit hours at the 400 level.
2. Survey of Literature courses (FREN 350, 351).
3. Earn a grade of C or better in ENGL 240.
4. Earn grades of C or better in major courses.
5. Demonstrate oral and written proficiency through a standardized test and oral interview.

Major in Spanish

A major in Spanish consists of 36 credit hours, with 33 credit hours in the language above the elementary level (101-102), distributed as follows:

1. Complete 24 hours of required courses:

		Credits
ENGL 240	Introduction to the Study of Language	3
SPAN 201	Intermediate Spanish	3
SPAN 202	Spanish in Review	3
SPAN 310	Oral and Written Composition	3
SPAN 315	Elements of Spanish Culture	3
SPAN 316	Elements of Latin American Culture	3
SPAN 335	Survey of Spanish Literature	3
SPAN 336	Survey of Latin American Literature	3

2. Complete a minimum of 12 additional hours in the language at the 300 or 400 level.
3. Earn grades of C or better in major courses.
4. Demonstrate oral and written proficiency through a standardized test and oral interview.

The language major may be combined with study in other areas to enhance career opportunities. The department will advise students in planning an academic program to meet individual interests and career objectives. It is especially recommended that those planning careers in education and in government service study a second foreign language.

All language major students are encouraged to plan one semester of study at an institution in a country in which the target language is spoken to improve their speaking ability and learn about the culture first-hand. Credits earned through study abroad may be applied toward the major. A language major planning to enter a field such as business, education, social work, etc. should seek advisement from the department.

Teacher Certification

Language students seeking certification to teaching French/Spanish in secondary schools must fulfill the following requirements in addition to the requirements for the major:

		Credits

4. Show satisfactory results on the PRAXIS I Examination as defined by the University and the Seidel School.
5. Submit at least three positive recommendtions from faculty in departments other than education.
6. Obtain written approval of the application from their advisor(s).

Throughout their academic career, students have the opportunity to volunteer or tutor in local schools.

In July 1998, the Maryland State Board of Education adopted regulations mandating all secondary/K-12 pre- and in-service teachers have six hours course work in reading. Teaching Reading in the Content Areas Part I (SCED 422) and Teaching Reading in the Content Areas Part II (SCED 424) have been approved by the Maryland State Department of Education as courses to satisfy this mandate.

Testing Policy

The Department of Modern Languages and Intercultural Studies awards and recognizes credit through examination in French, German and Spanish. Any student officially enrolled at Salisbury State University may be granted credits through any approved examinations (placement, advanced placement, challenge, CLEP). Only nine test credits per language may be applied to either a minor or a major in that language. No credits will be awarded for 101 language courses under any circumstances, nor will credits be awarded for any type of exam for a course below the student's established level of proficiency.

Prior to receiving University academic credit, native speakers and other students may acquire credit for language skills through examination by demonstrating achievement on approved examinations administered by the Admissions Office (CLEP).

Native speakers of the language in question are eligible to receive credit, through the departmental challenge examination, only for courses in content areas, not for courses in development of language skills. Non-native students who continue their language study at Salisbury State University after having begun in high school, demonstrate achievement on the placement tests provided by the Department of Modern Languages and Intercultural Studies, and complete an appropriate course with a C or better may qualify for University credit.

Placement tests are given the first two days of classes each semester. Students are eligible to take placement tests only during the first semester in which they are enrolled in a particular language. Students who demonstrate advanced standing through the placement test will be eligible for University credit as follows:

Placement	Credits
Intermediate (201)	3 for level 102
Intermediate (202)	6 for 102 and 201
Advanced (300 level)	9 for levels 102, 201 and 202

Transfer Students

Transfer foreign language students must complete 15 semester hours in major courses at Salisbury State University with minimum grades of C.

The Department of Music offers a diversified, yet comprehensive program for students wishing to study music within the traditional setting of a liberal arts curriculum. As a department within the Fulton School of Liberal Arts, the Department of Music fosters student abilities to enhance their intellectual capacities; develop critical thinking in performance and in the classroom; examine their own and other cultures; and integrate the learning experience in music with other academic areas of interest. This program serves as a foundation for specialized concentrations in music as well as embracing student interests that go beyond the scope of their regular academic life. The Department of Music is dedicated to helping students embrace the importance of performance and composition as well as classroom instruction to develop a comprehensively prepared musician/teacher; to place music in a historical, theoretical and aesthetic context within the educational/teaching environment; and to effectively communicate and demonstrate cognitive knowledge, psychomotor skills and the aesthetic nature of music.

All performance and applied course offerings in music are listed in the semester scheduling bulletin under the prefix of MUSA. All other music course offerings are listed in the bulletin under the prefix of MUSC.

Departmental Honors Program

Students may participate in IDIS courses offered through the Honors Program at Salisbury State University which may be applied to their General Education requirements and electives for the degree program.

General Education Requirements

All students attending Salisbury State University will complete a minimum of 45 hours of General Education course requirements as part of their total degree program. Emphasis of study is focused upon the humanities, social sciences, lab sciences, mathematics, and health awareness. Music courses that satisfy General Education requirements under the humanities Group IB assist students in developing an appreciation for lifelong learning, diverse cultures, creative activities and a pursuit of aesthetic understanding.

All music courses are open and available to the non-music major student who wishes to fulfill General Education requirements, satisfy elective requirements or pursue various aspects of performance, applied study or classroom study for their own enjoyment and enhancement. All course prerequisites and seating audition requirements must be observed.

Minor in Music

See "Minors" section for details.

Lab Fees

Non-music major students wishing to pursue private applied study may do so through MUSA 390 for one or two semester credit hours. Music majors are required to complete an eight semester sequence of applied study beginning with MUSA 138 through MUSA 439. A lab fee of $150 per semester credit is required of all students in applied music study.

Entry Audition and Minimum Degree Requirements

All students who wish to be accepted into the Bachelor of Arts in music degree programs must successfully pass a music audition for placement within the required applied study sequence. This is inclusive of meeting SAT/ACT and GPA requirements for acceptance into Salisbury State University. Audition appointments should be arranged through the Department of Music prior to the first semester of study on this campus.

Bachelor of Arts in Music - Degree Programs

The Bachelor of Arts in music degree program is designed to provide students with the broadest possible options of study. The Bachelor of Arts degree in music is designed for students who wish to combine their degree program in music with other areas of interest in a traditional liberal arts environment. Students completing the Bachelor of Arts in music degree may pursue teacher education or pursue graduate studies in humanities or other related fields. The Department of Sociology offers a program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in sociology, which generates interest in how the experiences and behavior of individuals are shaped by social forces. Students gain understanding of the social world they live in and learn to deal with people and organizations in their everyday lives.

Sociology is a valuable preparation for careers in a wide variety of fields including social research, criminology, demography, social psychology, public administration, gerontology, education, rehabilitation, social work and market research. It provides a useful background for law, business, medicine, community planning and politics.

Sociology prepares students for most graduate programs in the liberal arts and social sciences. Through its strong emphasis in the core areas of theory and social research, the curriculum particularly enables students to successfully study sociology beyond the B.A.

Major in Sociology

Students must complete the following 37 hours in sociology, at least 21 of which must be at the 300/400 level, with grades of C or better in each course:

1. Complete the following 22 core hours:

		Credits
SOCI 101	Introduction to Sociology	3
SOCI 331	Racial and Cultural Minorities	3
SOCI 309	Research I, Social Research Methods	3
SOCI 310	Research II, Statistical Methods	4
SOCI 421	Theory I, Foundations of Sociological Theory	3
SOCI 422	Theory II, Contemporary Sociological Theory	3
SOCI 431	Senior Seminar	3

2. Select 15 hours of sociology electives.

Minor in Sociology

See "Minors" section for details.

Transfer Students

Transfer students majoring in sociology must complete at least 15 hours in sociology at Salisbury State University.

General Information

Although there are no prerequisites for many sociology courses, students are advised that 300/400-level courses are basically designed for juniors and seniors.

Departmental Honors Program

Sociology majors of outstanding ability may achieve recognition through the departmental honors program. To be considered for departmental honors, students should apply to the department chair, or be recommended to the chair by a member of the faculty, no later than the start of their senior year. The faculty will admit qualified students to SOCI 495: Independent Study for Department Honors considering each student and his/her proposal for the independent study. Students are awarded honors upon their completion of the independent study with a grade of B or better and their completion of the major coursework with a minimum 3.5 average.

School Information

The Richard A. Henson School of Science and Technology, endowed in 1988, originally included the departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Physics, Computer Science, Geography and Geosciences and Mathematics. The Department of Physics was separated from Chemistry in 1990 and the departments of Computer Science and Mathematics were combined in 1991. A dual-degree program in biology and environmental/marine science was added in 1990, a major in environmental health science approved in 1991, and a degree in computer science was added in 2000. In 1993, the former School of Nursing and Health Sciences was combined with the School of Science and Technology creating the departments of Health Sciences and Nursing.

Richard A. Henson, founder and chairman of Henson Aviation, endowed the School of Science in 1988 creating the Richard A. Henson School of Science and Technology. An avid pilot, he founded the Henson Flying Service in his hometown of Hagerstown, MD, in 1931 when he was only 21 years old. During World War II he was a test pilot for Fairchild Industries in Hagerstown, then developing and manufacturing training and fighting planes for this nation's wartime flyers. After the war he turned his ideas and expertise as a flyer toward civil aviation and in 1967 started the first commuter service for Allegheny Airlines connecting Hagerstown to Baltimore and Washington, D.C. In 1981 he moved his corporate headquarters to Salisbury describing this as "the model commuter city in the United States." After a period of phenomenal growth he sold the airline to Piedmont Aviation Inc. in 1983, which in turn was bought out by USAir in 1987. Over the last 10 years, Henson has given numerous substantial financial gifts to other local educational institutions as well as the YMCA, the Boy Scouts of America, the Peninsula Regional Medical Center and the Greater Salisbury Committee.

The Henson School's mission is to provide students with the knowledge and skills they need to function as professionals within their disciplines and as informed citizens on issues of science and technology. This knowledge and skill can serve students in recognizing, evaluating and making decisions about scientific concerns.

The curricula provide sound foundations for health science, nursing, science and mathematics and computer science majors and include courses supporting the University's General Education mission. In addition to its integral role in liberal arts education, the school provides core courses in science for several programs in other schools at the University.

Students in the Henson School of Science and Technology work closely with their advisors on curriculum, program planning and career development. Besides traditional majors in the sciences, students can select from a variety of interdisciplinary, dual-degree and pre-professional programs. Students are encouraged to engage in undergraduate research projects, internships and cooperative learning experiences. Faculty coordinators are available in each department to assist students in arranging internships and co-op experiences. Graduates from the school typically begin careers in science, technology and public education or continue their education in graduate or professional schools.

There are several scholarships relating directly to the School of Science and Technology. The endowment of the school established the Richard A. Henson Scholars Program. These scholarships are available to high-ability students majoring in any department within the school, and can be renewed annually. To encourage interest and scholarship within the field, the Tidewater Environmental Health Association established a scholarship program for students majoring in environmental health science. A unique scholarship program developed by K&L Microwave is available for students majoring in one of the sciences and minoring in one of the fields available in the Perdue School of Business. Finally, there are a number of scholarships available for students majoring in nursing and health sciences. More information is available in the "Financial Aid" section of this catalogue, and inquiries should be directed to the dean.

Specific programs within the Henson School of Science and Technology are accredited by the following professional organizations:

American Chemical Society Committee on Professional Training
Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs
National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences
National Environmental Health Science and Protection Accreditation Council
National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission

The Department of Biological Sciences offers degrees in the biological sciences, environmental health science and, through cooperation with the University of Maryland Eastern Shore, a program leading to dual degrees in biology and environmental/marine science. The department's mission is threefold:

1. Help students majoring in biology and associated health disciplines, environmental health and environmental/marine science prepare for advanced degree work or post-graduate employment.
2. Help students not majoring in science develop appreciation and fundamental knowledge of the principles governing life.
3. Nourish in all students the ability to apply the scientific process and to think critically about contemporary problems in the biological sciences.

The department shares the University's commitment to developing in students the fundamental communication skills that characterize educated persons and the technical knowledge and skills that will allow them to become outstanding professional biologists.

The biology program consists primarily of a traditional science curriculum, educating students to work as professional biologists in many prominent sub-disciplines. The environmental health science degree (see page 130) and the environmental/marine science dual degree programs are applied programs leading to graduate school or employment in these areas.

The Department of Biological Sciences operates under the guidelines "Resolutions on the Use of Animals in Research, Testing and Education" as adopted in 1990 by the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS).

Pre-professional Track

Pre-professional students select their courses according to the admission demands of the professional schools in their areas of interest with the advice of the health professions advisors of the Henson School of Science and Technology Health Programs Committee. These advisors can assist students in developing pre-professional tracks for medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, optometry and podiatric medicine. See the "Pre-professional Programs" section of this catalogue for more information.

Accelerated Professional Programs

The Department of Biological Sciences and the University of Maryland at Baltimore (UMAB) Dental Hygiene Department offer a program that qualifies students to apply for entrance to UMAB's dental hygiene program. Students at SSU are guided in career and course election and in completing practical experience in dental hygiene. UMAB dental-hygiene faculty visit the SSU campus to meet with students. Qualified students enter UMAB in their junior year and graduate with University of Maryland bachelor's degrees.

SSU also has seven-year programs with the Pennsylvania College of Optometry, the Pennsylvania College of Podiatric Medicine and the University of Maryland Dental School that lead to the Bachelor of Science and Doctor of Optometry, Podiatric Medicine or Dental Surgery. Normally students take eight years to earn these two degrees when schools are not affiliated.

Teaching Reading in the Content Areas Part I (SCED 422) and Teaching Reading in the Content Areas Part II (SCED 424) have been approved by the Maryland State Department of Education as courses to satisfy this mandate.

Students completing the biology major and teacher certification program should obtain the program curriculum guide and seek advisement from the biological science education specialist in the Department of Biological Sciences.

Dual Degree Program in Biology And Environmental/Marine Science

SSU and UMES offer a dual-degree program in biology and environmental/marine science. Students from SSU who complete the program receive a Bachelor of Science in biology from SSU and a Bachelor of Science in environmental science with the marine ecology option from UMES.

Students wishing to enroll in this program are initially registered as pre-dual degree majors (pre-ENVS) and enter the dual degree program once they have completed BIOL 121, BIOL 122, CHEM 121 and CHEM 122 with a combined GPA of 2.5 or higher.

These students pursue their biology major at SSU, completing all biology major requirements with the following modifications:

1. SSU students take a minimum of 23 semester credit hours on the UMES campus. As part of the 16 hours of biology elective requirements, SSU students must take the following courses:

The Chemistry Department offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Science in chemistry, including an American Chemical Society (ACS)-certified program.

The department's curricula foster the development and verbal and written expression of rational thought. The faculty attempt to impart an understanding and appreciation of chemistry along with the knowledge, safe laboratory skills and personal integrity necessary for students to be productive members of the larger community of professional chemists. Because chemistry is an experimental discipline, the laboratory experience fosters a sense of self-confidence and independence, as well as an appreciation for the importance of original investigation. Since the study of chemistry is discovery-based, the department is committed to providing meaningful and interesting research experiences in well-equipped laboratories.

Professional chemists work in such diverse fields as medicine, space and marine science, molecular engineering, food preparation and processing, and the synthesis of material from lipstick to high strength composites. As frontiers in the natural sciences approach molecular dimensions, chemistry is truly becoming the fundamental science.

The faculty in the department strive to promote a feeling of "belonging" among majors. Student/faculty picnics and softball/volleyball games, student participation in national and regional professional meetings, student employment in the department, and activities of the SSU Student Chemical Society all contribute to the informal, yet professional, atmosphere of the department.

The major in computer science, which includes a minor in mathematics, emphasizes software development principles throughout the curriculum and prepares students for graduate study or for careers in computer science, software development or systems analysis. The department provides up-to-date programs as well as undergraduate research, internships and consulting opportunities

The computer science major requires 18 courses (60-62 credits) arranged in four components:

I. Mathematics Core for computer science (18 credits) which completes a minor in mathematics;

IV. Four upper-level electives (12-14 credits, selected with the guidance of a faculty advisor).

All required mathematics and computer science courses and all upper-level electives must be completed with grades of C or better (or pass if they are offered only on a pass-fail basis). No course may be taken until all prerequisite courses have been completed with grades of C or better.

Transfer students majoring in computer science are required to complete at least 12 hours of upper-level computer science courses with grades of C or better at Salisbury State University.

Curriculum Guide: Bachelor of Science in Computer Science

The course offerings in the computer science program permit students to complete degree requirements within four years. Below is a sample sequence of courses for a computer science major.

Calculus and computer programming courses are time-intensive, and students are advised to plan their schedule accordingly, particularly in their first semester. Students who do not take MATH 201 or COSC 120 in their first semester will likely be advised to take three or four computer science courses in each semester during their final two years. Students who are not comfortable with personal computer operation (including windowing, file and directory/folder manipulation, word processing, etc.) or who desire an overview of the computer science discipline should take COSC 116 instead of COSC 120 in their first semester.

College algebra, geometry and trigonometry are prerequisites for all the mathematics courses in this program. Students who have not mastered any of these subjects should take MATH 102 instead of MATH 201 in their first semester.

The Department of Geography and Geosciences offers a program leading to a Bachelor of Science in geography, a discipline which examines the spatial patterns and interactions of natural, cultural and socioeconomic phenomena on the earth's surface. Geography embraces aspects of both the physical and the social sciences. This integrative, spatial perspective finds concrete expression in land use management—regional/urban planning and development.

Major in Geography

Bachelor of Science requirements for a geography major include the following:

1. Complete the following core courses:

		Credits
GEOG 200	Applications in Geographic Information Systems	3
or
GEOG 319	Geographic Information Systems	4
GEOG 201	Physical Geography/Weather and Climate	4
GEOG 203	Economic Geography	3
GEOG 204	Spatial Analysis	4
GEOG 301	World Regions	3
GEOG 414	Research and Writing	3
GEOL 103	Introduction to Physical Geology	4

2. Satisfy 15 semester hours of electives in geography, at least 12 semester hours of which must be at the 300/400 level and must include at least six semester hours in non-methodology courses.
3. Complete at least three semester hours in statistics:

MATH 155	Modern Statistics with Computer Analysis	3

All courses applied to the major must be completed with grades of C or better. The Department of Geography and Geosciences recommends that the lower-division core courses be completed prior to GEOG 414 and all other upper-division courses. Except for GEOG 204 and 414, the core courses may be taken in any order and a student may register for more than one in a given semester.

Transfer students must complete a minimum of 15 semester hours with grades of C or better in geography at Salisbury State University, at least 12 semester hours of which must be at the 300/400 level. Geography majors seeking certification for teaching in either the elementary or secondary school must meet additional requirements in education. Students pursuing either of these alternatives should contact the Education Department for advisement early in their program.

While geography majors must satisfy departmental requirements, they are encouraged to develop a program suitable to their individual needs. The department has four designated options: mapping sciences and computer applications, environmental planning and resource management, earth and atmospheric sciences, and individualized. Each is designed to provide flexible, yet directed preparation toward specific employment opportunities as well as appropriate background for related graduate work. Students seeking guidance about the options, graduate study or career programs should see a departmental advisor.

Health Sciences

Chair
Assistant Professor Johanna W. Laird, M.S.; immunohematology, clinical chemistry, urinalysis and body fluids

The Department of Health Sciences consists of programs in clinical laboratory science/medical technology and respiratory therapy. Each provides coursework in the basic sciences, General Education and specialized areas which prepare graduates for national certification in their fields of study. Health sciences students must have an aptitude for science and a good working knowledge of chemistry, biology, physiology and microbiology.

During the first two years of each program, students take prerequisite and General Education courses. The last two years comprise the professional core, offering courses in the major with student laboratories accompanied by rotations through clinical facilities. The courses prepare students to practice in laboratory science or respiratory care under the guidance and supervision of professionals during internships in "real world" environments.

Clinical Laboratory Science/ Medical Technology

Program Director
Assistant Professor Johanna W. Laird, M.S.; immunohematology, clinical chemistry
Assistant Professors
Cynthia C. Cowall, M.Ed.; hematology, clinical microbiology
Diane L. Davis, Ph.D. (clinical coordinator); clinical chemistry, immunology
Clinical Professor
Steven Moore, M.D. (medical director); pathology

The Department of Health Sciences offers a program leading to the Bachelor of Science in clinical laboratory science/medical technology, which has traditionally been known as the branch of medicine dealing with the performance of laboratory analyses used in the diagnosis, prognosis and treatment of disease, as well as the maintenance of health. This definition is rapidly undergoing expansion due to the diverse employment opportunities available to clinical laboratory science/ medical technology graduates.

The American Society of Clinical Laboratory Science labels graduates "clinical laboratory scientists," since they are prepared for employment or further education in a broad spectrum of areas related to laboratory analysis. Graduates seek careers in clinical settings (hospitals or private laboratories performing tests related to disease conditions in humans and animals), industry (marketing, pharmaceutical, biomedical technology, occupational health, research and development, and quality assurance), research science, health care administration (infection control, health promotion, laboratory consultation) or public health (epidemiology, crime laboratory science, Peace Corps). Many graduates continue education in medicine, dentistry, health law or other graduate programs.

SSU's program provides courses in the basic sciences of chemistry and biology, General Education and specialized areas such as microbiology, immunology, clinical chemistry, hematology, immunohematology and management. Computerization, mathematics, instrumentation and writing are integrated into the curriculum. The diverse courses are coupled with opportunities to practice these studies in actual clinical laboratories. It is highly recommended that students wishing to pursue the degree seek academic advisement early.

The Bachelor of Science program is accredited by the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences (NAACLS). Graduates are eligible to take certification examinations offered by various national organizations such as the American Society of Clinical Pathologists (ASCP) and the National Credentialing Agency for Laboratory Personnel (NCALP).

Pre-health Professional Preparation

Students pursuing pre-health options such as pre-medicine need to take courses that meet requirements for specific schools. Selection of courses should be coordinated with the Health Professions Advisory Committee of the Henson School of Science and Technology. These advisors can assist students in meeting these specific requirements. Please see the Pre-professional Programs section of this catalogue for more information.

General Information

Advanced standing will be granted to those individuals who meet acceptable criteria of the University. Applicants who hold certification as medical laboratory technicians may be offered advanced status. Methods include CLEP, transfer of academic credit from accredited institutions and credit for prior life and work experiences.

In their junior and senior years, students must register for and satisfactorily complete three semesters of didactic study, a senior winter term of clinical rotation and a semester of full-time clinical experience at approved clinical affiliates of the program which may include Peninsula Regional Medical Center, Memorial Hospital at Easton, Shore Health Laboratories, Nanticoke Memorial Hospital and Shore Memorial Hospital. Students are responsible for registration fees for fall and spring semesters and winter term, and for registration fees, housing, meals and transportation during the winter term and clinical experience semester. In addition, it is each student's responsibility to have all appropriate vaccinations including the hepatitis B vaccine and a physical examination performed by a personal physician during the senior year prior to clinical rotations.

Placement and progression in courses are determined by program policies. For detailed policies, consult the program handbook, available in the office of the chair.

Major requirements completed seven years prior to admission must be updated in a manner acceptable to NAACLS. Evaluations will be performed on an individual basis.

Admission to Upper Division

Students should declare a major in clinical laboratory science/medical technology early in their academic careers to assure appropriate advisement.

Admission to the upper-division (professional) component of the program during the spring of the sophomore year, is based on satisfactory completion of (or a plan to complete) the lower-division core as well as on professional and technical aptitude for the field.

Students should be aware that there are physical, mental, and emotional demands in the field. A description of the essential functions required by the program is available in the admissions policy. Applicants are required to acknowledge, in writing, that they are aware of these essential functions prior to beginning the program.

Space in the upper division is limited each year; therefore, students should seek admission early. Admission is not guaranteed, even with satisfactory completion of the lower division. To receive a copy of the admission requirements please contact the program office at 410-543-6364 or the department office at 410-543-6365.

Other Science Majors

Students from other science majors such as biology or chemistry are encouraged to seek permission to take courses for elective credit if they have an interest in clinical laboratory medicine. Eligibility for ASCP categorical certification in one area such as clinical microbiology, clinical, chemistry or hematology can be earned by taking an approved plan of courses.

In the final two years of the program, students must complete practical experiences at clinical affiliates such as Peninsula Regional Medical Center, Memorial Hospital at Easton or other clinical sites. Satisfactory completion of the program will qualify students to sit for the National Board of Respiratory Care entry-level and subsequent registry exams.

General Information

A major in respiratory therapy may be declared at any time prior to the clinical experience. However, students with a sincere interest in the profession are encouraged to declare a major early in the college experience in order to take advantage of professional advising and program planning.

Students wishing to obtain the baccalaureate degree who hold associate degrees or who have previously been either certified respiratory therapists (CRT) or registered respiratory therapists (RRT) may apply for advanced standing in the major. The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Science in mathematics, including concentrations in computer science and statistics, and to the Bachelor of Science in computer science. The department introduces students to the beauty and utility of mathematics, statistics and computer science in an environment that enhances learning experiences inside and outside the classroom. The department provides up-to-date programs as well as undergraduate research, internship and consulting opportunities.

The major in mathematics encourages students to examine the relationships among pure mathematics, applied mathematics, statistics and computer science. It provides a foundation for graduate work or careers in applied mathematics, statistics, computer science, actuarial science or secondary education. The major in computer science, which includes a minor in mathematics, emphasizes software development principles throughout the curriculum and prepares students for graduate study or for careers in computer science, software development or systems analysis.

The Department of Nursing offers three routes to the Bachelor of Science in nursing: one for traditional undergraduate students, a second for registered nurse students and a third for non-nursing college graduates. The primary mission of the department is to facilitate a liberal and professional education that provides opportunities for professional development and self-actualization. Besides educating students in the practice of professional nursing, the department promotes the health of the people in the region through education, service and research. In addition, the department seeks to provide leadership in the development and dissemination of nursing knowledge focused on the changing health care needs of the rural region.

The nursing program is designed to prepare a generalist practitioner qualified to provide professional nursing care to individuals, families and communities at all levels of wellness in a variety of health care settings; promote the quality, availability and accessibility of nursing education and nursing care; and provide quality education for students as a basis for graduate study in nursing.

Educational preparation for nursing involves a sequence of learning experiences in a variety of health care settings with clients of all age groups, of multicultural backgrounds and of various socioeconomic levels.

The program is fully accredited by the National League for Nursing and the Maryland Board of Nursing. Graduates are eligible to take state board examinations for licensure as registered nurses.

Admission to the Nursing Major

Students are admitted to the nursing program in one of three ways:

Incoming freshmen are automatically admitted to the nursing program. Their place in the junior year is guaranteed provided that they maintain a GPA of 2.5 each semester while enrolled in pre-nursing courses.

Students who transfer to SSU with a GPA of 3.25 and 24 earned college credits are guaranteed admission to the nursing program. Once at SSU, they must maintain a GPA of 2.5 each semester while enrolled in pre-nursing courses.

All other students with a minimum GPA of 2.5 may apply to the nursing program by February 15 for admission the following September. Students will be considered on a competitive basis.

General Education credit may be transferred to Salisbury State University from other accredited colleges and universities and credit earned by CLEP examination is acceptable. Lower-division nursing courses are not transferable. Upper-division nursing courses taken at other accredited colleges and universities will be evaluated by the Nursing Department on an individual basis.

Major in Nursing

The nursing program includes a General Education component, support courses in the natural and behavioral sciences, and a series of upper-division nursing courses for a total of 123 semester hours. The minimum acceptable grade for BIOL 334: Pathophysiology, and all required nursing courses, is C.

Registered Nurse Students

Salisbury State University participates in the Maryland articulation nursing education model. Under this model, several options for articulating from a diploma or associate nursing program have been developed. These options depend on the year of graduation and the accreditation status of the basic RN program. A brochure, developed especially for registered nurse students, that describes these options in detail, is available upon request from the Nursing Department.

Accelerated Second-Degree Program Track

The Department of Nursing offers an accelerated program track leading to a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Science in nursing for non-nursing college graduates who wish to prepare for professional nursing roles and advanced clinical practice.

There are 84 semester hours in the course of study. The Bachelor of Science in nursing is awarded after successful completion of 44 semester hours. Full-time students normally complete the undergraduate degree requirements and are eligible to take the licensure examination for registered nurses (NCLEX-RN) in three semesters. The master's degree requires a minimum of 40 semester hours beyond those completed for the B.S. in nursing. Details of this program track are presented in the University Graduate Catalogue.

Application forms and specific admission-progression information may be obtained from the Graduate Nursing Office or the Admissions Office.

The Physics Department prepares students for a variety of careers in high-technology fields as well as graduate studies in physics or electrical engineering. The department's mission is to prepare students to work confidently and effectively in physics or a related field, to develop the power to think clearly, judge soundly and communicate effectively.

Graduates of the physics program have an expertise in physics, electronics and microcomputers, areas that are an increasingly important part of everyday life. Applications are found in industrial, commercial, medical and governmental environments. There is a growing need for technically oriented personnel in all aspects: research, design, manufacture, sales and service.

Major in Physics

All required physics courses must be completed with a minimum overall GPA of 2.0. All physics majors must complete the following core:

		Credits
CHEM 121	General Chemistry I	4
CHEM 122	General Chemistry II	4
MATH 201	Calculus I	4
MATH 202	Calculus II	4
MATH 310	Calculus III	4

PHYS 313	Introduction to Modern Physics	3
PHYS 314	Mechanics	3
PHYS 315	Electricity and Magnetism	3
PHYS 316	Introduction to Quantum Mechanics	3

* required only of freshman who declare physics or engineering major

Students can complete the physics major in one of four ways: general physics track, microelectronics track, 3-2 dual degree pre-engineering program or collaborative electrical engineering program. See the department for appropriate checklists and advisement.

General Physics Track

Students pursuing general physics must fulfill the following requirements:

1. Complete the following courses:

		Credits
PHYS 407	Senior Laboratory	3
PHYS 490	Research in Physics	3

2. Satisfy four additional 300/400-level physics courses. See department for approved list of courses.

Microelectronics Track

Physics majors pursuing microelectronics must complete the following courses:

		Credits
PHYS 318	Semiconductor Physics	3
PHYS 321	Analog Electronics	3
PHYS 322	Digital Electronics	4
PHYS 411	Microprocessor Architecture	3
PHYS 412	Microcomputer Interfacing	3
PHYS 475	Research in Microcomputer Physics	3

Pre-Engineering Program

The 3-2 dual-degree pre-engineering program is a cooperative program with the University of Maryland, Old Dominion University and Widener University (see "Dual-Degree Engineering"). An additional 30 hours must be completed at the receiving institution with at least 15 hours in engineering or related courses to receive physics degree from SSU. To receive engineering degree, an additional 30 hours (for a total of 150 hours) must be completed at the receiving institution.

Dual-Degree Engineering Program

Salisbury State University has special agreements with Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA; the University of Maryland College Park; and Widener University, Chester, PA, to offer a dual-degree program in engineering. Under the program, a student normally attends Salisbury State University for three years and one of the cooperating engineering schools for two years. During the first three years at SSU the student must complete all required General Education courses, all prescribed courses as determined by the particular engineering program and maintain a 3.0 grade point average. Transfer students entering the dual-degree program are required to complete a minimum of 60 semester hours at Salisbury State. Upon successful completion of the five-year program, a student will be awarded a baccalaureate degree from Salisbury State University as well as an appropriate engineering degree from the engineering school attended.

The courses at Salisbury State University which are required for the dual-degree engineering program are described in this catalogue with other programs offered by the Chemistry and Physics departments in the Richard A. Henson School of Science and Technology.

Students in approved dual-degree programs may use credits and grades from the participating institutions as well as Salisbury State University in meeting the requirements for graduating with honors.

Collaborative Electrical Engineering Program

A collaborative electrical engineering program exists between SSU, UMES and the University of Maryland College Park (UMCP). The program requires the completion of 129 total credit hours. The curriculum, based on UMCP's program, includes 43 credit hours of General Education, 16 of which are satisfied by the major. All lower division (freshman and sophomore) courses are taught live at SSU and UMES. Junior and senior level lecture courses are delivered from UMCP to SSU/UMES through an interactive approach or taught live at SSU/UMES. The model for delivery builds on the virtues of Instructional Television (ITV) and Interactive Video Conferencing (IVN), but adds an additional network component to transmit white board and instructional materials through a computer to create a truly two-way interactive classroom. Both SSU and UMES provide lab experiences for students in the program. A microwave engineering lab will most likely be at SSU and a DSP lab is planned for the UMES campus. At the successful completion of the degree requirements, the students in this collaborative engineering program receive a baccalaureate degree in electrical engineering from UMCP's Clark School of Engineering.

Maryland Admissions Requirements

1. The Maryland Higher Education Commission set as a minimum admission standard for all full-time and part-time entering freshmen who have graduated from high school within five years of admission a high school average of C (2.0) or better. Each institution, however, is encouraged to adopt standards above the minimum level.
2. Each institution will develop predictive measures of probable academic success and identify any additional admissions criteria.
3. Students who have earned fewer than 24 credit hours and desire to transfer to state universities and colleges will be admitted under the conditions set down in accordance with the Maryland Student Transfer Policies, which require equal treatment of native and transfer students.
4. In order to attain junior status (60 credit hours), a student must have earned a grade point average of C (2.0) or better.
   a. In order to ensure equal treatment of the native and transfer student, a transfer student who has earned 60 or more credits at prior institutions must have attained a C (2.0) cumulative average to be accepted at any state university/college.
5. Admission to some designated programs may require higher standards to be limited by the opportunities available to complete a clinical or other requirement of the major program.
   a. The institutional standards shall be approved by the Maryland Higher Education Commission and shall be reviewed by the commission on an annual basis.
   b. Such standards shall be published in the institution's catalogue.

Policy on Student Residency Classification for Admission, Tuition and Charge Differential Purposes

I. POLICY

It is the policy of the Board of Regents of the University System of Maryland to recognize the categories of in-state and out-of-state students for purposes of admission, tuition and charge differentials at those institutions where such differentiation has been established. The student is responsible for providing the information necessary to establish eligibility for in-state resident status. Students who are financially independent or financially dependent, as defined herein, shall have their residency classification determined on the basis of permanent residence, which, for purposes of this policy, shall be determined by the criteria set forth in I.A-E below. Students will be assigned in-state status for admission, tuition and charge differential purposes only if the student (if financially independent) or the student's parent, guardian or spouse (in the case of a financially dependent student) fulfill all of the following:

A. For at least 12 consecutive months immediately prior to and including the last date available to register for courses in the semester/term for which the petition applies, the student (if financially independent) or the student's parent, guardian or spouse (if financially dependent) MUST:
   1. own and continuously occupy or rent and continuously occupy living quarters in Maryland. There must exist a genuine deed or lease in the individual's name reflecting payments/rents and terms typical of those in the community at the time executed. Persons not having such a lease may submit an affidavit reflecting payments/rents and terms as well as the name and address of the person to whom payments are made, which may be considered as meeting this condition. As an alternative to ownership or rental of living quarters in Maryland, a student may share living quarters in Maryland which are owned or rented and occupied by a parent, legal guardian or spouse;
   2. maintain within Maryland substantially all personal property;
   3. pay Maryland income taxes on all earned taxable income including all taxable income earned outside the state;
   4. receive no public assistance from a state other than the State of Maryland or from a city, county or municipal agency other than one in Maryland;
   5. have a legal ability under federal and Maryland law to reside permanently in Maryland without interruption.

B. For at least 11 consecutive months immediately prior to and including the last date available to register for courses in the semester for which the application applies, the student (if financially independent) or the student's parent, guardian or spouse (if financially dependent) must:
   1. register all owned motor vehicles in Maryland; and
   2. obtain a valid driver's license issued by the State of Maryland, if licensed to drive in any other jurisdiction.

C. Within the 12 consecutive months immediately prior to and including the last date available to register for courses in the semester for which the application applies, the student (if financially independent) or the student's parent, guardian or spouse (if financially dependent) must register to vote in Maryland, if registered in any other jurisdiction.

D. A financially dependent student classified as in-state loses that status at such time as the student no longer meets on or more of the criteria set forth in I.A-C. A financially dependent student classified as in-state loses that status at such time as the parent, guardian or spouse on whom the status was based no longer meets one or more of those criteria.

E. In-state status based on permanent residence is lost at any time a financially independent student establishes a permanent residence outside the state of Maryland. If the parent, guardian or spouse through whom a financially dependent student has attained in-state status establishes a permanent residence outside the state of Maryland, the in-state status is lost. In each instance, the student will then be assessed out-of-state tuition and charges beginning the next semester or session.

F. In addition, persons in the following categories of students shall be accorded the benefits of in-state status for the period in which any of the following conditions apply:
   1. a full-time or part-time (at least 50 percent time) regular employee of the University System of Maryland;
   2. the spouse or dependent child of a full-time or part-time (at least 50 percent time) regular employee of the University System of Maryland;
   3. a full-time active member of the Armed Forces of the United States whose home of residence is Maryland or one who resides or is stationed in Maryland, or the spouse or a financially dependent child of such a person;
   4. for UMUC, a full-time active member of the Armed Forces of the United States on active duty, or the spouse of a member of the Armed Forces of the United States on active duty; and
   5. a graduate assistant appointed through the University System of Maryland for the semester/term of the appointment (except through prior arrangement, status is applicable only for enrollment at the institution awarding the assistantship).

G. Students not entitled to in-state status under the preceding paragraphs shall be assigned out-of-state status for admission, tuition and charge differential purposes.

II. PROCEDURES

A. An initial determination of in-state status will be made by the University at the time a student's application for admission is under consideration. The determination made at that time, and any determination made thereafter, shall prevail for each semester/term until the determination is successfully challenged in a timely manner.

B. A change in residency status must be requested by submitting a University System of Maryland "Petition for Change in Residency Classification for Admission, Tuition and Charge Differential." A student applying for a change to in-state status must furnish all required documentation with the petition by the last published date to register for the forthcoming semester/term for which a residency classification is sought.

C. The student shall notify the institution in writing within 15 days of any change of circumstances which may alter in-state status.

D. In the event incomplete, false or misleading information is presented, the institution may, at its discretion, revoke in-state status and take other disciplinary actions provided for by the institution's policy. If in-state status is gained due to false or misleading information, the University reserves the right to retroactively assess all out-of-state charges for each semester/term affected.

E. Each institution of the University System of Maryland shall develop and publish additional procedures to implement this policy. Procedures shall provide that on request the president or designee has the authority to waive any residency criterion as set forth in Section I, if it is determined that application of the criteria creates an unjust result. These procedures shall be filed with the Office of the Chancellor.

III. DEFINITIONS

A. Financially Dependent: For purposes of this policy, a financially dependent student is one who is claimed as a dependent for tax purposes, or who receives more than one-half of his or her support from a parent, legal guardian or spouse during the 12-month period immediately prior to the last published date for registration for the semester or session. If a student receives more than one-half of his or her support in the aggregate from a parent and/or legal guardian and/or spouse, the student shall be considered financially dependent on the person providing the greater amount of support. The dependent relationship must have formally existed by legally contracted marriage or court order recognized under the laws of the State of Maryland for at least 12 consecutive months immediately prior to and including the last date available to register for courses in the semester/term for which the petition applies.

B. Financially Independent: A financially independent student is one who declares to be financially independent as defined herein; does not appear as a dependent on the federal or state income tax returns of any other person; receives less than one-half of his or her support from another person(s); and demonstrates that he or she provides through self-generated support one-half or more of his or her total expenses.

C. Parent: A parent may be a natural parent or, if established by a court order recognized under the laws of the State of Maryland, an adoptive parent.

D. Guardian: A guardian is a person so appointed by a court order recognized under the laws of the State of Maryland.

E. Spouse: A spouse is a partner in a legally contracted marriage as recognized under the laws of the State of Maryland.

F. Self-generated: Describes income which is derived solely from compensation for an individual's own efforts as evidenced, for example by federal or state W-2 forms or IRS Form 1099 where interest income is based upon finances created from one's own efforts. For the purposes of this policy, grants, stipends, awards, benefits, loans and gifts (including federal and state aid, grants and loans) may not be used as self-generated income.

G. Regular Employee: A regular employee is a person employed by the University System of Maryland who is assigned to a state budget line. Examples of categories NOT considered regular employees are graduate assistants, contingent employees if and when needed, and temporaries.

Appendix C

Return of Title IV Funds Worksheet

The federal government's policy states that if Title IV aid recipient withdraws from the institution during a period of enrollment in which the recipient began attendance, the institution must calculate the percentage and amount of Title IV assistance the student did not earn and return those funds to the Title IV programs. Once 60 percent of the enrollment period has elapsed, 100 percent of the aid is determined to be earned and no calculation is required.

Step I: Basic Information

Title IV Funds	Disbursed	Could Have Been Disbursed
Direct Unsubsidized Loan	_____	_____
Direct Subsidized Loan	_____	_____
Carl Perkins Loan	_____	_____
Direct PLUS Loan	_____	_____
Pell Grant	_____	_____
SEOG	_____	_____

A. Title IV aid disbursed (NOT aid that could have been disbursed) for the enrollment period. A. $_____

B. Total Title IV aid disbursed, or that could have been disbursed, for the enrollment period. B. $_____

C. Percentage of enrollment period completed.

Withdrawal date ___/___/___. Enrollment period start date ___/___/___ and end date ___/___/___.

Calendar days completed in the enrollment period divided by the total calendar days in the enrollment period.

_____/_____ = C. _____ %

D. Institutional charges for the enrollment period. D. $_____

E. Percentage of Title IV aid earned (equal to line C up to 60 percent, otherwise 100 percent) E. _____ %

F. Percentage of Title IV aid unearned (100 percent minus line E) F. _____ %

Step II: Amount of Title IV Aid Earned by Student

G. Percentage of Title IV aid earned (line E) multiplied by Title IV aid disbursed or that could have been disbursed for the enrollment period (line B)

_____ X _____ = G. $_____

(line F) (line B)

Step IV: Total Title IV Aid to be Disbursed

I. If the amount of Title IV aid earned (line G) is greater than the amount of Title IV aid disbursed for the enrollment period (line A), subtract the Title IV aid disbursed for the enrollment period (line A) from the amount of Title IV aid earned (line G). This is the amount of disbursement due.

_____ - _____ = I. $_____
(line G) (line A)

Step V: Amount of Unearned Title IV Aid to be Returned

J. If the amount of Title IV aid earned (line G) is less than the amount of Title IV aid disbursed for the enrollment period (line A), subtract the amount of Title IV aid earned (line G) from Title IV aid disbursed for the enrollment period (line A), This is the amount of Title IV aid that must be returned.

_____ - _____ = J. $_____
(line A) (line G)

Step VI: Amount of Unearned Title IV Aid Due from Salisbury State University

K. Institutional charges for the enrollment period (line D) are multiplied by the percentage of Title IV aid unearned (line F).

_____ X _____ = K. $_____
(line D) (line F)

L. Compare the amount of Title IV aid unearned (line H) to line K and enter the lesser amount. L. $_____
